

My Dreamy Old Husband

Chapter 139

More and more people came to watch after hearing news about their battle.

No.1 Beast of the Server also showed up arrogantly along with a bunch of his wives and children. During this period, he had expanded his harem by taking all of Sirius' wives and children, so he came here to brag about it to her face.

'Haha, you finally got what you deserve, Sirius! I'm so glad to watch you getting destroyed today!'

Sirius glanced at him before disdainfully typing, 'Loser.'

No.1 Beast of the Server: 'My nephew, I want you to hit him so hard that he has to call you 'daddy!'

Snow Fox suddenly changed his tone. 'Yes, my idol!'

In an instance, the cold and righteous hero became a fanboy!

Snow Fox is actually No.1 Beast of the Server's nephew? They seem to have a great relationship!

Beast's reputation was as bad as Sirius233's because both of them were notorious playboys. However, no one expected him to have a good relationship with Snow Fox!

Naturally, Stanley knew the identity of the person behind No.1 Beast of the Server—Harry! He was his second idol aside from his Uncle Michael.

In the third round, it was time to decide who was the winner.

At first, both of them started with a fierce duel as they used their most powerful and skills flawlessly. Therefore, they were still evenly matched, but both of them suffered some damage.

Halfway through the battle, their life points were similar.

None of them was willing to quit, so they continued fighting, and their moves were almost like an amazing tutorial.

Just when the winner was about to emerge, a ray of light shone from the sky. A strong ray of light hit right on the two of them, and they were blown away by its powerful force. They were forced to deactivate their combat mode.

Everyone was shocked.

Who is it that is capable of deactivating other people's combat mode? Is it the game's administrator? After this battle, there will be one master player who will be forced out of the game no matter the result. The two of them must have thrown a lot of money into the game, so the officials might not want to see either of them quitting. Therefore, this must be an act from the admins.

However, surprisingly, a figure descended from the sky and shone a bright divine light at the crowd. A glowing ID flashed at the eyes of others—Scary Phoenix!

“It's Scary Phoenix!”

“I'm already on my knees!”

“It's Scary Phoenix! It really is him!”

Stanley was equally shocked.

Uncle Michael has risen from the dead!

Sophia seemed utterly frightened to see Scary Phoenix!

Oh, sh*t. Has he always been here, waiting for a chance to pounce?

The moment Scary Phoenix showed up, Snow Fox and No.1 Beast of the Server immediately rushed toward him and kneeled down.

'Daddy!'

'Uncle!'

The people in the internet cafe were also shocked.

"I can't believe this battle would draw the attention of Scary Phoenix!"

"If I ever get the chance to see Scary Phoenix's moves, I would have fulfilled my life purpose!"

"Scary Phoenix, kill Sirius!"

"Scary Phoenix is here. It's game over for Sirius."

Scary Phoenix didn't seem to notice the two of them kneeling in front of him. Instead, he looked at Sirius in the Battle Arena and laid out his demands straight away. "I will give you three choices. First, fight me and be my b*tch if you lose. Second, you can choose to be my b*tch right away. Third, leave the game and never come back."

Oh, damn. Scary Phoenix is so assertive. His first demand is to ask Sirius to be his b*tch. That is so domineering!

However, Sophia felt aggrieved inside. My son is still in his hands. Should I be his b*tch? I would rather die. I'm a famous character in the game, so I have my own reputation to defend! He wants me to fight with him? That's impossible. How can a mortal fight a god? Should I quit the game forever? Damn it. That's even more impossible! I've already spent millions in the game. It would be a big loss for me if I were to simply leave! These three choices are impossible!

In the game, almost five minutes of silence later, Sirius suddenly attacked Scary Phoenix without any warning.

All of a sudden, both of them went into combat mode.

The crowd was flared up again.

“Oh sh*t. Is this really happening? Sirius is actually challenging Scary Phoenix!”

“Holy sh*t!”

“Oh, my God. This is the first in history!”

Meanwhile, Stanley seemed to have hearts popping out of his eyes as he watched the screen. He finally got the chance to see his beloved Uncle Michael in action!

He remembered that the last time Scary Phoenix fought someone was a few years ago. Michael was one of the first players who played the game when it was first launched. At that time, he conquered the game by defeating every player, but sadly, he remained hidden for the past few years.

On the Battle Arena, the two opposing sides were exuding a murderous aura. Scary Phoenix removed his armor on his own accord and grabbed a blunt blade. By doing so, he had the same attributes as Sirius.

Sirius also noticed that her attributes and combat effectiveness were almost the same as Scary Phoenix's. Now, the only thing different between them was their skills.

If that's the case, there's still a chance for me to beat him.

Sirius glanced at Call Me Taylor and noticed her expecting gaze among the crowd before swinging her sword ruthlessly toward Scary Phoenix.

Her skills were very powerful, and she used all kinds of superb combo moves, but the first move was deflected relentlessly by Scary Phoenix.

Sirius was forced back a long way by Scary Phoenix's sword as she looked at him in disbelief.

How is this possible? How could there be such a powerful player in this world? Could he be cheating?

Sirius was unconvinced, so she attacked him again. This time, Scary Phoenix didn't force her back like the last time. Instead, he slashed his sword at her after sending her flying away. In an instant, Sirius' blood splashed everywhere.

Everyone in the internet cafe cheered, "Kill him! Kill him!"

Even Stanley was rallying everybody to cheer. "Kill Sirius! Kill! Kill! Kill!"

In the meantime, Sophia finally realized that even though her attributes were similar to his, her skills would never reach his level. If this continues, I will be humiliated by him before I even try to attack. What should I do? Should I really lower myself and be his b*tch? What will happen to my reputation?

After she made up her mind, she wrote, 'I'm sorry. There's an earthquake in my internet cafe. I need to run for my life.'

She exited the game and turned off the computer in one go!

She wiped off the cold sweat off her face and let out a huge sigh.

Damn it. I don't care if that was embarrassing. Besides, I'm already a monster in the game, so I have nothing to lose. However, it feels so cool to just unplug the cable and run away!

She logged off the computer and left without saying goodbye to Stanley.

In the internet cafe, everyone sneered when they saw Sirius running away. Most of them left afterward, but a few of them stayed to suck up to Stanley.

In the game, Snow Fox quickly caught up to Scary Phoenix and called him affectionately, 'Uncle Michael!'

Scary Phoenix: 'Hello.'

Then, he went offline.

The worked-up Stanley felt like he was facing a brick wall.

However, since that brick wall was his dear Uncle Michael, he still felt great about it.

Who cares if he is cold toward me? What's important is that I got him to notice me!

When he noticed that more and more people were gathering around him, he also exited the game and went to find Sophia, but she was long gone.

Sophia went back home as quickly as possible. When she got back, she realized that Nathan was already home, and he was now mining some Bitcoin.

She brought out a stern face and placed her bag on the bed before pretending to be mad while asking him, "Darling, do you have anything to say to me?"

Nathan answered her with a cold yet adorable face, "No."
