

My Dreamy Old Husband

Chapter 445

“Eddie, what do you even mean by your actions? I’ve already allowed you to sleep with my uncle, so what more do you want? Don’t you feel at least a little distressed when you throw away so much money? Why don’t you give me the money instead? After eight or ten years, I promise to return you tenfold the amount you give me!” Stanley kept prattling on.

Sophia did not respond but instead continued gaming in a serious manner. As she manipulated the Scary Phoenix account that belonged to Michael, its avatar was so great that it could fly like a god overlooking the common folk in the game.

It’s so cool to play with the idol’s account. Top guy in the whole server, a godly avatar, that lethality, that critical hit, and that agility, it’s just incredible...

However, the winner of the Academy Award for Best Actor, Taylor Murray’s game ID, was already exposed and known to all. As long as Scary Phoenix appeared in-game, a group of fans would chase after him wildly, causing a server jam wherever he went. It was of no use even if he tried to log in incognito.

Within this period of time, there was an increase of more than one million new users in ‘Swordsman Game’. All of them joined the game for Taylor Murray, which caused the game screen to hang and the line to drop for most users.

After killing a monster, the player would need to change the map location to fight monsters somewhere else. So, Scary Phoenix and Snow Fox moved at full speed toward their new destination. Snow Fox galloped on his mount, while Scary Phoenix flew in the sky.

As soon as Scary Phoenix appeared, he flew past the town freely in the sky, and the people in the town could only look at him with envy and hatred.

Who made him the only one who could fly in the game? Nobody could follow him even if they wanted to.

Suddenly, a heroine with wings flew behind him.

Scary Phoenix turned his head and saw the woman with long black hair in a fluttering dress. As she rode on the wind, she looked as beautiful as a dream. From her appearance, she was clearly a wealthy paid user.

‘Swordsman Game’ actually had wings as props? Since when did this happen?

So, Scary Phoenix was not the only god in the game?

Heroine ID: Nat.

The pair of them flew in the air in tandem like a godly couple, drawing the envy of others. Scary Phoenix didn’t say a word but continued rushing toward his destination.

Nat spoke, “Wait up, the hero ahead of me!” Scary Phoenix still didn’t speak.

Nat continued, “Taylor, I’m Natasha.” Scary Phoenix paused, then said, “I’m not the man himself.”

Nat replied, “Then are you Lord Winston?” Scary Phoenix answered, “I’m Taylor’s wife.”

The conversation stopped for a while there.

Natasha lowering herself to play this kind of game was, of course, all for Michael. She bought a god-level title with strong attributes for a high price, just so that she could stand together with Scary Phoenix in the game world.

Unexpectedly, although she had found Scary Phoenix, it was his wife who was using this game account.

Taylor Murray's wife? Well, I can work with that!

On the other side of the computer, Natasha smiled sarcastically and started typing. 'Hi, Mrs. Murray. I'm Natasha, Taylor's sister. My father is Alex Mitchell, the president of Mitchell Group.'

Scary Phoenix paused for a while, then replied, 'Hmm, what a coincidence. My dad is your dad's granduncle Cooper Mitchell! You shall address me as your elder!'

Nat's in-game avatar was a fairy with colorful wings. Although she fluttered her wings in the game, in reality, she was laughing behind the computer at Sophia, the dumb housewife who didn't know any better.

How could Cooper Mitchell be your father? In fact, how is someone like you worthy of having him as your father? It seems that Taylor's wife is nothing much after all. She's just an ignorant and dumb woman!

Nat spoke in-game again, 'I recently visited Taylor on set. He's so kind to me, and we often have dinner together. Why didn't I see you there?'

After saying this, she waited for the other party's response.

Sure enough, the other party sounded a little frustrated as she immediately asked, 'You had dinner with Taylor?'

Natasha was so happy that even her typing rhythm became incredibly joyful. 'Yes, I was having dinner with Taylor just now. It was just him and me!'

The other party did not answer. Natasha knew that the woman must have begun to suspect Taylor at this time. Perhaps she might immediately call and ask Taylor, who he had dinner with just now.

Then there would be endless arguments and doubts. Taylor would definitely think that she was kicking up a fuss for nothing and being unreasonable. If this continued, they would get divorced sooner or later...

When the seed of doubt had been planted, the divorce would happen sooner or later.

Seeing that the other party hadn't spoken for a long time, Natasha hurriedly typed in her explanation. 'Mrs. Murray, don't get me wrong. Taylor just treats me like a close buddy! After a few days, I'll come to visit you, Mrs. Murray! By the way, I've also been to Villa No. 8 of The Imperial several times before, but you weren't there. Mrs. Murray, I must make an appointment with you in advance before visiting this time.'

Seeing that the other party still didn't respond, Natasha continued typing. 'Mrs. Murray, what's the matter with you? Mrs. Murray, please say something. You mustn't blame Taylor! He really just sees me as a close buddy of his. If you don't like it, then I won't have dinner with Taylor in the future. Whenever Taylor invites me over, I won't go.'

She acted so innocent, so pure, and so ignorant...

The other person still didn't reply, but since she was definitely behind the computer, she would have seen those words. Besides, Scary Phoenix was still flying forward in the sky.

Natasha continued, 'Mrs. Murray, I've prepared a surprise for Taylor. You will know it after watching the news later!'

Scary Phoenix didn't speak, and finally, he arrived at his destination. When he landed, a gaggle of shocked geese scattered away. His golden robe fluttered, and his waist-length hair flew about wildly as he strode away one step at a time.

Snow Fox was already there waiting. When he saw the player 'Nat' following closely behind Scary Phoenix, he swallowed his cursing remark and asked gently instead, 'Who is this fairy?'

Nat quickly replied, 'Hello, Snow Fox. I'm Taylor's sister, and my name is Natasha.'

Snow Fox was dumbfounded.

Nat added, 'Snow Fox, please help me persuade Mrs. Murray. Although Taylor loves me very much, he has always treated me like his younger sister. Mrs. Murray seems to have misunderstood something. Although Taylor and I often have dinner together, and he takes very good care of me, there's nothing between us. He really has always pampered me like he's my brother!'

Snow Fox was again speechless at her audacity. Even though Stanley was pea-brained and did not quite understand what a b*tch was, he knew what 'driving a wedge' meant. Every sentence from Nat sounded like she was making her relationship with Taylor clear, yet every sentence hinted otherwise.

Stanley privately messaged Scary Phoenix, asking, 'Aunt, what now? Should I kill her? She's really disgusting.'

'Swordsman Game' had added an online voice function, so players could now directly speak with each other, leaving their hands free to play the game. Thus, Scary Phoenix's voice quickly reached Stanley's ears.

"Just let her be." Michael's deep and sexy voice echoed in Stanley's ear.

"Pfft!" Stanley looked at Natasha being all arrogant and trying to cause discord and suddenly felt that she was pretty pitiful. She thought that her strategy had succeeded, but she didn't know that the husband and wife were watching her making a fool of herself behind the computer.

Suddenly, Stanley pricked his ears to listen to Michael's voice. "Uncle, I hear some loud noises over there. You're not having sex with my aunt, are you?"

"No. Natasha's words were excellent, so I was applauding her with your aunt," Michael replied, panting heavily.

"Then why are you panting?"

"I exerted too much effort during the applause."
