

My Dreamy Old Husband Chapter 800

Ivan knew that Billy was emboldened due to his strong backing now, so Ivan's accusation held no weight. However, it didn't mean that he would silently stay shut.

"Billy, you stole all my design drawings back then, including Starry Night. Be honest with me—do you really think that you are worthy of the title 'designer'? Do you still have any professional ethics at all?"

Professional ethics?

Ha!

Billy smiled and deliberately said loudly, "You have no evidence, yet you dare falsely accuse me of plagiarism and deny all the fruits of my labor in one sentence. Is this what you call professional ethics? Mr. Designer, I know that Pouri is facing bankruptcy but you shouldn't slander me for plagiarism just because of that! Do you think Pouri will be able to recover after you ruined the reputation of King? Never! Our job requires talent and strength. Since you can't make good products, you should be eliminated by the market! Even without King, you will never stand a chance! If you can't do it in Pouri, it doesn't mean we can't do it in King!"

Seeing a plagiarising jerk actually defending himself and even reprimanding Ivan, his heart turned completely cold, thereupon he smiled sadly.

Billy glanced at Sandra in the audience and a cold look flashed through his eyes. As if he had received some kind of instruction, he looked at Sophia who was still playing on her phone and called out to her, "Miss Scarlett, you are currently Pouri's person in charge. Don't you have anything to say?"

Sophia pretended as if she didn't hear him, continuing to play with her mobile phone.

Billy yelled again and looked in her direction, causing everyone to look at her.

Seeing this, the guests whispered and gossiped among each other.

This is Scarlett, the new person in charge of Pouri?

Pouri was going to go bankrupt and everyone knew it. Thus, no one expected that Sophia would actually come up with such an evil plan and deliberately come to someone's new product launch conference to cause a scene.

It seemed that Pouri's bankruptcy was not without reason; they were too unprofessional.

Sandra looked at Scarlett, who kept quiet in defeat, and knew that she was backed up into a corner.

She cast a glance at the Mitchell Family members and saw that they were shaking their heads.

It seemed that Scarlett was not as powerful as rumor had it. Woody was gone and Cooper was no longer as powerful as he was in the past. Plus, his daughter had not inherited the methods and brains of her father. Woody and her family were done for and was not the opponent of Alex and his family.

"Miss Scarlett, don't you need to come out and give me an explanation? Your designer blatantly insulted me for no reason. Are you going to just stand by and watch? Please answer me, Miss Scarlett. Don't ignore my question!"

Billy boomed through the microphone and his voice spread throughout the audience, drawing everyone's eyes to Scarlett.

Under everyone's gaze, Sophia finally put down her phone and raised her eyes; there seemed to be ripples of emotions flashing in her blue eyes. She stood up silently and strode toward Billy who was standing on the runway.

Her eyes were indifferent. She didn't even glance at Ivan, who was held down by the security guard, and only the triumphant face of Billy entered her vision.

Everyone's eyes were glued to the figure. Such an embarrassing thing happened to her on such an occasion, but the petite and charming figure was still full of pride and strength.

After Sophia got on the stage, she stood under the spotlight and glanced down at the exquisite 'Starry Night' on the neck of the female Husky. Raising her hand, she murmured, "Give me the microphone and I will give you an explanation."

Billy gave a smirk and asked the staff to bring over the microphone.

He wanted to see what a brand that had gone bankrupt could do at such a moment.

A microphone was placed in Sophia's hands and her domineering and mature voice spread throughout the audience. She then voiced her first question, "Mr. Kim, are you sure that 'Starry Night' is your work?"

A slight smile appeared on Billy's handsome face. "Of course. I'm certain."

Sophia had a mask on her face, so no one could see her expression. Only her pair of blue eyes glowing with strange brilliance could be seen, and anyone who glanced at her would easily drown in the blue abyss in her eyes. She continued, "Excuse me, Mr. Kim, how can you prove that 'Starry Night' is your work?"

Billy smiled and looked behind him. On the stage, there was a huge screen. Billy made a gesture and a clip of his design work started playing on the screen.

"There's a camera in my design studio which records the entire process of my design. Not only me, but all the designers at King's design process will be recorded and saved just in case our opponent makes unprovoked insults and rumors toward us like today!"

Sophia looked at the projected screen. It was the process of Billy's design of Starry Night. The playback speed was very fast, so the video of the entire design process finished playing in a few minutes.

Shortly after, there was a round of applause.

Billy proudly accepted the applause of the crowd and bowed again and again, making Sophia standing on the stage look extremely embarrassed.

Sandra, who was in the audience, also clapped happily and her eyes filled with joy and pride as she thought to herself, Ha! Oh, Scarlett... I've overestimated Cooper's daughter. It seems that Cooper is not as capable as I thought after all. Times have changed. Now that Cooper and his old theories are no longer feasible, the Mitchell Family will eventually belong to me!

However, Ian, who was standing next to Sandra, seemed to feel that things were not as simple as it seemed. He looked at the girl silently and saw that she was still standing tall and proud, as if there was a strange force supporting her.

Sophia waited silently for the crowd to finish applauding and stayed silent the whole time. Then, Billy asked maliciously, "Miss Scarlett, do you have any other questions?"

Sophia retracted her gaze from the video broadcast on the screen, parted her lips slightly and asked another question, "Mr. Kim, can you reveal the source of inspiration for this 'Starry Night' and the specific time when the design drawings were completed, as well as when the finished product was completed?"

Speaking of this, Billy became even more proud as he eloquently introduced, "I had the inspiration for 'Starry Night' on a certain day a year ago. It took me half a year to finish the design drawings and I just finished the product last year."

Sophia's eyes suddenly lit up. "So, the design inspiration and design drawings of 'Starry Night' originated a year ago?"

Billy was fascinated by the applause and the spotlight. Although something felt off with her question, he still replied confidently, "Yes."

The moment his voice trailed off, a sneer appeared on Sophia's face that was hidden under the mask, and there was a gleam in her eyes as if she was a beast looking at the prey she had been staring at for a long time jumping into a trap.

"So..."

The pitch of Sophia's voice lowered in an instant and her expression suddenly became dark.

"If I told you that 'Starry Night' was already designed and made into a finished product a few years ago, does it mean that your 'Starry Night' was plagiarized, Mr. Kim?"
