

Chapter 425

"Suzi, can I talk to you, you don't want to be in the company, for fear of being seen, let's go out and find a cafe to sit in, can we?" Joan asked eagerly.

Suzi nodded.

She and Joan went out of the gate together. Suzi subconsciously glanced in the direction where Arron used to park. Coincidentally, she didn't find Arron's car. She thought that Arron hadn't arrived yet, so she went with Joan. Ling went to the cafe opposite.

"Ten minutes, I only have ten minutes." Suzi didn't want Arron to wait for her, let alone let Arron know that she was with Joan.

If she knew it, she didn't care, but she didn't want to cause trouble to Joan either.

"Okay, just ten minutes." Joan said.

The two asked for two glasses of boiled water and took their seats, then spoke in unison.

"Suzi, leave Arron."

"Have you heard from my brother?"

Joan: "..."

Suzi: "..."

After a pause, Joan asked a little lonely: "You just want to know the news of Sanford, he is so important to you?"

Suzi nodded without hesitation: "Of course, my brother's status in my heart is the same as that of Lilly, the same as my dead mother. He is my relative, Joan, you once said you helped me inquire about me. Did you inquire about the news from brother?"

Joan shook his head apologetically: "I'm sorry Suzi, I'm about to start to inquire about this. Elder Shu is sick. You also know my relationship with Walton, plus Elder Shu himself belongs to my mother. Uncle Shi, for two reasons, I have been in Kyoto with Walton for a while, so I didn't find the time to help you inquire.

Oh, yes, there is Lanita in Kyoto. "

"Um..." Suzi thought. Because she hadn't seen Lanita's trouble for her for a while.

"Suzi, leave Arron. As long as you are willing to leave him, I will find a way to give you a large sum of money. You take your daughter abroad and go abroad, so it will be difficult for him to find you again.

Trust me Suzi, I won't play with you again.

I will never play with you again in this life, and I don't want any rewards from you, no rewards at all. "

"Thank you for your kindness." Suzi said.

"Will you leave?" Joan asked.

Suzi replied decisively: "No."

Joan: "..."

After a few seconds, he asked: "Why don't you leave him? Are you very strict in his care? But you can go to work and your daughter can go to kindergarten. This shows that you have a chance to escape.

Suzi, are you afraid to run away?

Do you think that Sanford is no longer in your life, so you no longer rely on it?

Suzi, I can be your support. As long as you are willing, I am willing to die for you for your daughter in this life. , Let's go abroad, okay Suzi?

I love you.

I hope you can live freely, and I hope you are happy. As long as you are happy, you can let me die for you. "

Suzi: "..."

"She is living very happily now." A sharp voice seemed to fall from the sky.

Chapter 426

Suzi and Joan both looked up at the same time and saw Arron with a fierce face.

"Biao...Brother." Joan was afraid of Arron.

Six years ago, he was afraid when he was a dude, and now he is still afraid of Arron, the kind of fear from the bottom of his heart.

Arron didn't look at Joan.

He only looked at Suzi.

Suzi was calm, without any expression.

Isn't it just sitting in a cafe with people?

What's wrong!

If he blames her, even if she doesn't go out at home, he has reason to blame her.

There is a saying called wanting to add to the crime, why is there no cause for it?

The man's eyes became warm, and he asked caringly: "Does my stomach hurt anymore?"

Suzi was taken aback.

"Yesterday, what did you say in the old house?" Arron asked.

Suzi's face flushed suddenly.

She has forgotten about the lie yesterday, how can he still remember it today?

Not right!

Last night, he already treated her...

He did it on purpose now!

Sure enough, the man sat beside Suzi with one arm around Suzi, reached out his hand to touch Suzi's water glass, and then frowned.

"A Ling, this is your fault!" Arron said flatly.

Joan: "Cousin, Suzi and I just came out to sit, Suzi..."

Before Joan finished speaking, Arron was interrupted again: "When you ordered a drink, did you ask a woman if her body is suitable for drinking cold water? Suzi is uncomfortable these days and she is not suitable for drinking. Cold water."

Joan: "..."

Suzi: "..."

"Waiter!" Arron immediately raised his hand and shouted.

The waiter came over immediately: "Sir, what would you like to order?"

"She can't drink cold water these days, but a cup of hot...ancient brown sugar water." Arron said.

"Good sir." The waiter immediately went to prepare.

"A Ling, what's the matter with your sister-in-law?" Arron continued to ask Joan.

Upon hearing this term, Suzi blushed immediately.

She got up and said: "You...talk about it, I'll go out and wait for you!" After speaking, she turned and ran away.

What is she staying here?

At least Arron and Joan are cousins, no matter what contradictions they have, they have nothing to do with her.

She doesn't want to be involved

Even if they talked about her, she didn't want to know.

No need.

"Hey..." Joan still wanted to call Suzi, but Suzi ran away without looking back.

When she got out of the cafe, she saw Christopher's car parked outside the cafe. Suzi came to the car, opened the door and sat in.

Christopher turned his head and was shocked: "Madam, you... why did you come out?"

Suzi bit his lip and asked, "As soon as Joan and I entered, he saw it?"