

Chapter 445

Darius really couldn't explain what he repeatedly refuted by his father's words.

Yeah!

Grandpa has seen Suzi with his own eyes, but he doesn't think Suzi is like his little aunt. Why is that?

Darius was puzzled.

But deep down, he just felt that Suzi must have something to do with his little aunt.

Sure!

He was waiting for his brothers to return to China. After they returned, he took a few brothers to take a look at Suzi. If the brothers thought that the photos of Suzi and his aunt were similar, then Darius was right.

Before his elder brother returned home, Darius was really hard to sing alone.

Now he can only let Lanita slop around proudly and proudly in Shu's house.

If he wanted to help Suzi, Darius could only help Suzi in private.

This afternoon, Darius coaxed the old man to sleep for a while after feeding him the afternoon meal. When the old man fell asleep, Darius vacated the space to call Suzi.

He has been in Kyoto for three weeks. During these three weeks, the old man's condition has been unstable, so Darius didn't bother to ask how Suzi's work is. He deliberately wanted Lenny to take care of Suzi, but thought of Shen. Suzi was captured by Arron, and I thought that Lenny was also a dishonest thing. Darius gave it up after thinking about it.

He didn't tell anyone that Suzi worked in his construction company under Darius's because he didn't want to cause trouble for Suzi.

And Suzi, who is far away in Nancheng, is immersed in the artwork at this moment. Throughout the day, there were a lot of gossips against her in the company, mostly about her and Joan. Moreover, most of them said that she and Joan were stone hammers, and Rayna did not wrong her, and so on.

However, Suzi didn't care.

She has always adhered to the intention that she is not afraid of the shadow slanting, and she works quietly.

However, when she was about to get off work, Joan came to her again.

And he rushed straight from the front desk to the design department. After entering the design department, Joan eagerly shouted, "Suzi, why are you shutting down!"

Suzi: "..."

After a while, she suppressed the irritation in her heart very much, and asked, "Joan, why are you looking for me again?"

After speaking, she subconsciously looked at the other people in the office. At this moment, many women were watching Suzi from time to time with the look of watching the show.

When Joan was about to say something, the little girl at the front desk suddenly ran over: "Designer Shen, what is your landline number? A man is looking for you, but I don't know your extension number."

Suzi: "..."

After a few seconds, she played: "That man?"

She thought it was Arron.

"Um..." the front desk immediately said, "A strange male voice called from Kyoto and said that he is looking for you. Our company only has Mr. Jun from Kyoto, but his voice is not like Mr. Jun. I asked him. Who is it, he doesn't say..."

Suzi: "..."

"Oh my God, how many men have you hooked up?" A female colleague couldn't help but laughed directly.

Chapter 446

Suzi looked back, and it was really Linda laughing at her.

She said in a calm voice: "Linda, are you jealous of me? I am jealous that I crawled on top of you when I first came, and I am also jealous that I am younger than you, but you have more male admirers than you. You say you Why did you get so frustrated?"

Linda: "..."

She increasingly found that Suzi's mouth was poisonous, and Suzi was not easy to provoke.

As soon as Suzi's words fell, Joan said: "I think Joan is now a declining family and has no influence, right? I actually shit on my head! My surname Chu is not helpful anymore. If you want to crush you people, you will still be as neat as crushing ants! Two of you, if you can't eat Pupu, just say Pupu!

Which one of you has seen something wrong with Suzi and me!

Could it be that you women who are so sour and don't even want a man to meet a male acquaintance on the street, say a few words to them, and you are found to have an improper relationship with a man?

Is that right? "

A group of women, who were scolded by Joan, did not dare to say anything.

Joan still didn't mean to give up: "Next time I will see you bullying Suzi like this, my surname Chu dug out your dog's eyeballs! I do what I say!"

Seeing Joan's ruthless appearance, several female staff in the design department almost peed on their pants. Everyone in Nancheng knew that Joan had a cousin, Arron, who was dominating Nancheng and no one dared to mess with, even though the Chu family had fallen. Now, where can Joan go?

So at this time, no one dared to say anything even if he was scolded by Joan.

But Joan looked at Suzi with a calm face: "You answer the phone first."

Only then did Suzi react: "Um... Twenty-six, you can turn it around."

The small receptionist ran away in a hurry.

After a short while, Suzi's landline rang, she picked it up and connected: "Hey, who?"

"Suzi, this is Darius." Darius said on the other end.

Suzi didn't hear Darius's voice. He seemed to have a cold with a strong nasal voice. Suzi asked here, "Uh...what's wrong with your voice?"

She didn't want the people in the company to know that she was unclear with Joan and Lenny, and now there is another Darius.

This really makes her mouth full of words.

On the other end, Darius said with a trembling smile: "I haven't been in the north for so long. The weather in the north is too dry and my throat has been irritated for more than a few days. How about Suzi, how are you working in the company? Since you applied for the job that day After that, my grandfather fell ill and was treated in Kyoto, so I haven't been to the company for this period of time. You still get used to working in the company? By the way, how did you shut it down, so I had to call you a landline."

Suzi: "...I'm pretty good, I like this job very much, thank you, that, I didn't turn off the phone, my phone is dead, I didn't bring a charger, I think no one will give it anyway. I called, and I went home and recharged it. I didn't expect you to call."

"It's good for your work to go smoothly, work hard, and be optimistic about you! Tell me if you have any difficulties." Darius said on the phone.

"Okay, thank you." Suzi thanked him politely.

"I'm in Kyoto, do you have any gifts you want, I will bring you back, Hermes Kyoto Edition limited edition? Perfume? Huh or something else? I don't know what you girls like." At that end, Darius treated Suzi's tone seemed to be the tone of his brother loving his sister.

Suzi had such warmth in her heart, but it was also a flash, she immediately refused: "No, thank you, nothing else, I will hang up first."
