

Chapter 193

But I didn't expect that he treated me..."

"I know. I understand." Sanford smiled and said, "If you don't love Joan, of course you won't love me.

Suzi, I never thought that you would fall in love with me.

I was convinced by you unilaterally, and I am willing to do everything for you.

Don't worry, I will never do anything that hurts you, and I will not force you to do anything you don't want to do.

Never. "

Suzi cried: "Thank you, Sanford. I will take care of you."

Suzi is a girl who can do what he said. Sanford stayed in the hospital for half a month. Suzi has been guarding Sanford every step of the way.

During this period, Sanford's cell phone was also thrown away by Suzi.

But even so, half a month later, on the day Sanford was discharged from the hospital, a few sturdy men at the entrance of the hospital stopped them, intercepted them and dragged them into the car. Sanford's illness became weaker at first, and Suzi was pregnant even more. There is no strength.

The two were dragged into a bright black van, and the van left with a whistling sound.

Sanford's mouth and Suzi's mouth were all sealed, and they were taken to the edge of a cliff.

"Today next year will be your anniversary!" a man with black sunglasses said coldly.

Suzi shivered in shock.

Sanford hugged Suzi and asked courageously: "You can die, can you ask, who is going to hunt us down?"

"Whose marriage did you disrupt? Didn't you count yourself?" said the man in black sunglasses. After he finished speaking, he made a color towards the men beside him.

Five or six big men, Qi Qi threw Suzi and Sanford down the cliff.

"Ah..."

"Ze Yan..." Suzi's cry fell sharply.

Five or six big men on the cliff drove away mercilessly.

They are going back to Nancheng to explain to the customer and settle the balance by the way.

Suzi and Sanford, who fell under the cliff, accidentally fell on a small truck.

It was also time for Suzi not to die. The truck was loaded with two-meter-high soft haystacks. After Suzi fell, there was no pain in his body, but rather soft and very comfortable.

A month later, they changed to a more remote county town.

Suzi liked that the occlusion here would not be discovered, but it was a pity that she could not go back to her hometown to see her deceased mother.

However, even if she regrets no more, she can only stay here first.

Because the child in the belly grows up day by day.

After they settled down, Sanford took Suzi to the Maternity and Child Health Hospital to re-establish a file and establish a card. The doctor took Suzi for the first pregnancy check.

The vitality of the fetus is very strong.

Suzi has gone through many twists and turns, but the child has grown very well.

The days of regular check-ups passed quickly, and Suzi lived in the small town very comfortably. In a blink of an eye, half a year passed, and Suzi's expected delivery date had arrived.

Early in the morning, she was watering the vegetable garden in the small courtyard at the foot of the mountain. Suddenly she felt abdominal pain, so she immediately called Sanford, a migrant worker,: "Brother, I might have a baby."

Chapter 194

Five years later.

The sunlight in the half afternoon shone on Suzi's thin and slender figure, coating her whole body with a slightly warm golden light.

Wearing a safety helmet and overalls, Suzi was standing on the construction site busy and directing.

"Shen Gong, the plan you gave is really effective. Our budget for this batch is much less than the previous batch, and the materials used are much better than the previous plan. This structure is really The conscience is structured. I heard that a lot of houses have been sold, and most homeowners bought them based on your design and materials." The contractor said to Suzi gratefully.

Suzi smiled gently: "Manager Huang, don't call me that in the future. I don't actually have the title of engineer. Just call me Suzi or Ms. Shen."

"Hey! Shen Gong, you don't have the title of engineer, but your ability is enough to be called this title. Our construction site is all up to you." Manager Huang respects Suzi's tone very much.

Suzi said modestly: "It doesn't matter, this is my job. I...like my job very much."

Suzi took a look at the building that was about to rise, and couldn't help feeling.

This is her favorite job.

She has worked in this small city for four and a half years.

Suzi now has a stable job, which is to provide technical support at home urban construction company. Shuttle between the office and the construction site every day, doing various budgets, adjustments, and construction structures.

Although she has not been able to do an architectural design job in a metropolis like Yuncheng, her monthly salary is more than 10,000 yuan, and she is also an architectural job that Suzi likes, but she is a bit tired. Point.

Suzi is already very satisfied.

In this life, to have such a job, to live with his children and Sanford safely and steadily here for a lifetime without being chased by others, Suzi has nothing else to ask for.

At three o'clock in the afternoon, Suzi returned to the office from the construction site, put down his helmet, slung his bag and rode on the battery car to go home. The county town is small and remote. It takes only twenty minutes to ride a battery car from the east to the west of the city, and it takes only a quarter of an hour from her work unit to the small courtyard where she currently lives.

The small courtyard was planted with various flowers and cooked vegetables, and the courtyard was covered with sunlight. Pushing open the fence gate to park the battery car, she went to a cement-paved terrace and said to Sanford, who was basking in the sun. , It's time to go back to the room, I will push you back."

Sanford slowly opened his eyes and looked at Suzi: "Suzi, I told you, don't come back to take care of me, you still come back, you delay work so much, brother can push the wheelchair by himself."

Sanford's legs were paralyzed.

Now he lives in a wheelchair.

Five years ago, when Suzi's children were six months old, they were hunted down again. That time Sanford broke their leg to escape.

Later, they simply changed to this place where the bird did not shit and settled in a place that was thousands of miles away from the original county seat.

At first, Suzi brought this half-year-old child with a paralyzed brother. He worked as a dishwasher in this small city and lived in a leaky shed. Until one day, both Sanford and the child had a fever. While hanging water, Suzi simply ran to the construction site to do the work of men.

Moreover, one person does the work of two people.

Every day from five o'clock in the morning to eleven o'clock in the night, she was so tired that she was out of shape.

But even so, the construction site where she worked was still unable to send a job due to quality problems. Not only that, she was also called by the quality inspection department.

Because of the reason for being inquired by the quality inspection department this time, Suzi used his construction knowledge to come up with a remedy method for the construction site, causing the contractor and the developer to look at Suzi differently.

After asking, I realized that Suzi was an architect.

Six months later, Suzi became the real backbone of this construction site, and the monthly salary was enough to support himself, his children, and Sanford.

Suzi and Sanford have no love.
