

Chapter 199

Especially those three months.

She curled up in the upper class circle of Yuncheng among the wealthy and wealthy, was played around and almost lost her life.

Therefore, Suzi no longer believes in feelings in this life, and will never have any ties with any rich kid anymore. She just wanted to take her daughter and her benefactor Sanford to spend her life peacefully in this small city.

No other ideas.

Suzi paused and replied: "Ji, there is still something on my side, I will hang up first."

After closing the line, Suzi took his daughter back home in the battery car.

The battery car was parked, and Lilly ran indoors quickly, yelling, "Uncle, uncle..." as he ran.

Sanford had also pushed out of the wheelchair: "Oh, our only little beauty is back, and told uncle, who did you beat today? Did you beat that person all over the floor to find teeth?"

Suzi looked at Sanford angrily: "Brother, don't get used to her. She is a girl, and she beats up boys and girls all day long. Like a woman with paper."

Sanford said with emotion: "I just want my niece to be like a girl, don't be like her mother, kind-hearted, soft-hearted, but also very emotional, and subject to calculations and bullies everywhere.

Our only future is to have a strong personality and never be bullied by anyone!

Understand! "

Lilly looked at his uncle and said, "Uncle, the only one must not be bullied by anyone, but the only one will not bully others. Don't worry, uncle. When the only one grows up, you must protect your mother and uncle. Never let anyone. Said my mother was an unmarried mother, and said my uncle was a disabled person."

After hearing this, both Suzi and Sanford felt extremely sad.

When I was stunned, there was a sudden noise outside: "b!tch girl! Come out for me! See if I won't level your house for you today!"

Upon hearing this voice, Sanford immediately asked: "What's wrong with Suzi? What happened? Why did someone call home?"

Suzi was taken aback: "..."

She also didn't expect that Song Xingchen's parents would really come to her door. She had planned to discuss with Sanford after dinner, and she would transfer to the only kindergarten tomorrow, but she didn't expect that she would have called her door.

Seeing that Suzi was not speaking, Sanford said immediately: "You two of you hid, no matter what happens outside, you should not come out. After I go out, you call the police immediately. Remember, only call the police and don't come out."

Suzi burst into tears: "Brother..."

"It's okay, I am a man, no matter what the crime is, I can't watch your wife suffer. Hurry up, go in and hide, and lock the door." Sanford turned around.

"No!" Suzi grabbed Sanford's wheelchair, pushed her in, and said to Lilly, "Take care of uncle, mother, go out and have a look."

After speaking, Suzi rushed out.

As soon as he left Suzi, he saw that there were several big and thick men standing outside the fence. They were carrying a single bed. On the single bed was Song Xingchen's father sleeping.

"Smelly girl!" Father Song Xingchen, who was half lying on the bed, still had the strength to swear, "Your daughter shook me and hurt me. I kneel down and apologize! Otherwise, I will demolish your house today!"

"I want to see how sacred you are, how dare you demolish this house!" behind him, a voice asked with an extremely cold voice.

Chapter 200

When Suzi turned around, he saw the developer of his company, that is, his boss, Ji Yunting, who had just invited him.

"Ms. Ji, why are you here?" Shen Bubei looked at Ji Yunting and asked.

Ji Yunting is dressed in a suit and leather shoes. He looks tall and handsome. In the small county town, he is also a tall, rich and handsome boss. How many people in the small county town are looking forward to seeing a real estate developer like Ji Yunting?

If it were Suzi who was still in college three years ago, Suzi might have been moved by a warm boss like Ji Yunting, but Suzi now will not.

She just wants to take her daughter and brother to live peacefully.

"I want to invite you to dinner, but you have already gone home, so I wanted to take a look." Ji Yunting carried the fruit basket and flowers in his hand: "This is for your brother and daughter. This is for you."

Suzi: "..."

"My surname is Ji!" Fatty Song, who was lying on the stretcher, yelled, "Don't think that I'm afraid of you when you come to support Suzi! I know you have two bad money, and you are the largest real estate developer in the county. But I also tell you, Fat Song, I am not annoying! I am not afraid of you!"

Ji Yunting looked at Fatty Song lying on the bed contemptuously and said, "Are you here to ruin someone? Since you are a ruin, see you in court!"

"Let me walk!" Fatty Song pointed to Ji Yunting, and then said to the brawny men who were carrying him: "Go, go back first!"

A group of people besieged at the door of Suzi's house just left. Suzi looked at Ji Yunting gratefully: "Thank you Ji Yunting, if it weren't for you, I don't know what to do. I didn't expect Song Xingchen's father to be so unreasonable. In fact, the two children had a little friction. ."

Ji Yunting said mildly: "The small county has strong folk customs, but you can rest assured that I will help you deal with this matter, and Fatty Song will not trouble you again in the future."

Suzi asked with lingering fear: "Fatty Song...what is his background?"

Ji Yunting smiled and said: "The government unit was suspended. The family used to drive earthmoving trucks, and then they were demolished. The family base is several million, and the network of relations within the county is relatively complicated, so he feels that he is the emperor of the earth. Now it's okay, yes. I am here, he dare not come to trouble you."

"Thank you." Suzi bowed her head. She didn't mean to let Ji Yunting come in and sit at home. She just said, not humble, "I will work harder in the future to create more value for the company's contract termination costs and I will let Mr. Ji I know, I will not let you down at work."

This is the only promise Suzi can give Ji Yunting.

Ji Yunting understood immediately.

But he thought, take your time, don't worry, one day you will be able to influence her.

"Okay, I will give you a raise at that time. It's getting late. Come in, I'll go back." Ji Yunting turned and left.

"Goodbye, President Ji."

"Goodbye."

Back in the room, Sanford asked Suzi, "Suzi, I think the season always treated you pretty well, you..."

"Brother, I don't think about anyone!" Suzi said quickly: "Did you not see it during the time in Yuncheng, how many people criticized me? I will never get rich again in my life.

I just want to guard you and keep the only one. The three of us can live a plain life. "

Sanford: "But you are still young..."

"Stop talking about brother." Suzi stopped Sanford.

Sanford didn't speak any more.
