

You Owe Me, My Love Chapter 46 - 50

Gu Mingchen arrived at the island.

The wounded crew members had already been evacuated.

There were a lot of craters on the ground with black colored ashes, and the air was heavily polluted.

Gu Mingchen scanned the scene and coldly ordered, "There are not many who sell serial landmines in A City. I want a list of all the sellers and buyers within 24 hours!"

"Yes, sir!" Lieutenant Shang said tremblingly.

Su Xuyan's villa.

Bai Rong stood behind him as she watched him enter the password 19920316.

She felt somewhat touched when she thought he had used her birthday as the password at first.

Turns out, Xing Jinnian had the same birthday as her.

"Xuyan, you're back!" Xing Jinnian called out sweetly as she stood at the door.

Bai Rong gave her a cold look.

Her skirt was so short that her panties could be seen if she did so much as bent over, and her fair skin was showing through the holes on her fishnet stockings.

Bai Rong was surprised to find that the governor's daughter was selling her body like that.

Xing Jinnian paused for a moment when she saw Bai Rong behind him, and then said with a sweet smile, "Bai Rong, you're here too!"

Bai Rong ignored her and walked into the house.

There was a bottle of red wine, two wine glasses, a fruit salad, two steaks, and a well-prepared Foie Gras in the shape of a heart on the table.

Bai Rong couldn't understand why Su Xuyan had brought her here.

"Should I not be here?" Xing Jinnian asked Su Xuyan softly.

Su Xuyan just smirked as he eyeballed her amazing figure, "That's a nice outfit you've got there."

"Really? Well, as long as you like it! You must be hungry, right? Come eat! I've made this just for you!" Xing Jinnian wrapped her arm around his.

Bai Rong walked towards her room.

"Bai Rong, come eat with us. Try Nian's cooking, she's quite a great cook." Su Xuyan called out to Bai Rong.

Bai Rong stopped in her tracks as she felt the pain in her heart.

When she made him a meal a week ago, he said it was disgusting.

But when this woman made him a meal, he had complimented her!

If that was the case, she would rather not disgust them any further with her presence.

"I'm not hungry, so I'll pass. Enjoy your meal." She walked straight into her room without looking back.

Their wedding photo on the wall had been replaced with Xing Jinnian's portrait, and there was a photo of Xing Jinnian and Su Xuyan on the nightstand.

To add insult to injury, there was a set of clothes that Xing Jinnian had changed out of, as well as a box of condoms she had bought on their wedding bed.

There was no place for her in this house anymore.

She was not a narcissistic person.

She knew Su Xuyan didn't refuse her divorce because he loves her.

He had brought her here just to humiliate her.

Bai Rong turned around and came face to face with Su Xuyan, "I'm done with admiring your love life. Can I leave now?"

Su Xuyan pulled a chair over, "Come, sit. Don't make me repeat myself."

"Su Xuyan, what more do you want?!" Bai Rong was growing impatient.

"What do you think I want? I want you to stop disobeying me any further." Su Xuyan warned her.

Bai Rong forced herself to sit at the dining table with them. She wanted to see how disgusting they could get.

Good thing I've prepared extra! Give me three minutes, Bai!" Xing Jinnian said with a smile as she went in the kitchen.

She added a layer of salt and chili on the ready-made steak and served it to Bai Rong without even heating it up first.

"Eat more, Bai Rong! I can make some more if it isn't enough!" She said sweetly and sat next to Su Xuyan like she was the owner of the house.

Bai Rong lowered her gaze.

Su Xuyan examined Bai Rong's expression, hoping to see her get jealous and upset.

He felt disappointed when she displayed none of those reactions.

Xing Jinnian saw how Su Xuyan was looking at Bai Rong, and was not about to let her man pay attention to other girls.

She grabbed a banana and placed it on Su Xuyan's lap, "I love eating this the most."

Su Xuyan played along, "Have more then, if you like it that much."

Xing Jinnian got bolder now, “Bai Rong, I forgot the vinegar. Could you help me see if there’s any in the kitchen?”

Bai Rong showed no emotions as she got up and went into the kitchen.

Xing Jinnian immediately kissed Su Xuyan on the cheek, “Xuyan, I want it now, while Bai Rong isn’t around!”

Su Xuyan kissed her, but kept his eyes on the kitchen.

Bai Rong saw what they were doing from the kitchen window, and felt some discomfort in her stomach.

She wasn’t sure if it was from hunger or disgust.

She poured herself some water and admired the view by the window.

It would be safer for her if she gave them more time so Xing Jinnian could take care of his needs.

Su Xuyan got impatient when Bai Rong would not turn around. He let go of Xing Jinnian and shouted towards the kitchen, “It’s fine if you can’t find it! I don’t like vinegar anyway!”

Bai Rong let out a sigh as she turned around and saw the taunting look in Xing Jinnian’s eyes.

“Bai Rong, hurry up and eat it before it gets cold!”

Bai Rong sat down and started to cut at the steak, only to find blood in it.

Her anger boiled as she had never seen such a disgusting woman in her life. She was so furious that she slammed her spoon on the plate.

“Xuyan, I’m scared!” Xing Jinnian crawled into his arms.

Su Xuyan smiled when he finally saw a reaction out of Bai Rong, and wrapped his arm around Xing Jinnian’s waist, “What the hell is wrong with you?! Nian made this for you, and now look what you’ve done to it!”

“What about it?” Bai Rong shot back, “I’m a mad woman, a jealous woman! Our life is just like a never-ending purgatory!”

Su Xuyan’s gaze grew eerily cold, “Look at you. I told you not to disobey me any further.”

“What counts as disobeying?!” Her eyes teared up, “Just what kind of woman do you want your wife to be?!”

Bai Rong turned away to wipe away her tears.

He was loving other women while she loved him wholeheartedly.

Now that she had stopped loving him, he still wouldn’t let her go.

This marriage of theirs was no different from purgatory.

“You’re crying?” Su Xuyan was shocked.

She had always acted nonchalant whenever he was with other women back then.

He felt a little irritable, and let go of Xing Jinnian’s waist, “What are you crying for? You can have my steak; I’ve already cut it up.”

Su Xuyan put his plate down in front of Bai Rong, who then stared at him.

She had never softened up in front of him throughout those years.

Her ego and pride would never allow her to lower her head towards him, who was in the wrong.

But she was tired now, and could care less about ego and pride.

The only thing she wanted right now was to be released from this painful purgatory of hers.

“Su Xuyan, let’s just get divorced, and you can be with whoever you want after that. I don’t want to live like this anymore.”

You Owe Me, My Love Chapter 47

Su Xuyan felt an inexplicable sense of discomfort in his heart when he saw her crying.

He never loved Bai Rong, and had ulterior motives ever since the first day he approached her.

He had wanted to get close to Xing Bachuan.

However, he didn't expect that Xing Bachuan would not acknowledge her as his daughter.

He regretted his actions and arranged for the kidnapping because he didn't want to marry her.

But she had managed to escape and even got raped by someone along the way, which angered him greatly.

She had insisted on marrying him after that, to which he agreed just so he could torment her.

But when she wanted to get a divorce, he felt unwilling to.

He was in a bad mood as he couldn't figure out the reason he felt that way, "Let's just stay separated for a month. If I am certain that I don't want you anymore after that, I will agree to get a divorce. But you'd better not do anything that would wrong me during this one month."

Bai Rong cried tears of joy, as if she had seen a glimmer of hope.

She grabbed her handbag and left the villa as quickly as possible.

Xing Jinnian let out a smug grin seeing her sister leave.

"Xuyan." Xing Jinnian's hand danced mischievously around Su Xuyan's lap. "Now that she's gone, let's continue."

Su Xuyan felt no excitement at all, "Nian, you can leave for now."

"Alright, I'll get going then. If I didn't know you well enough, I would have suspected that you've fallen in love with Bai Rong." Xing Jinnian said intentionally.

Su Xuyan gave her a sharp glare and pinned her onto the table, "Give me that crap again and I'll kill you! How could I possibly love that woman?!"

Xing Jinnian wrapped herself around Su Xuyan and gave him a flirtatious smile, "Sure, I'm looking forward to that!"

Su Xuyan then penetrated her directly without wasting any time.

He found his mood to be particularly irritable, as if his heart was shrouded in darkness. In the end, he decided to not think about it and put all his emotions into his exercise...

Bai Rong contacted Liu Yan, who then took the day off to unlock the door for her.

Liu Yan was worried about her, "Rong, what has that animal done to you?"

"He agreed to live separately for a month, and we could get a divorce after that." Bai Rong said with a smile.

"He finally made the right decision for once. You can stay at my place for the time being, just in case he changes his mind and looks for you. My house is quite big for me to live here alone anyway, so I could use some company." Liu Yan opened the door.

"Alright. Thank you, Yan."

Liu Yan hugged Bai Rong on the shoulder, "No need to thank me! Go on in and have a look at your room!"

Bai Rong left Gu Mingchen's book on the balcony to dry.

Liu Yan leaned on the door frame as she stirred her coffee, "Once you get divorced with Su Xuyan, you can start dating Gu Mingchen properly. I think he's a decent man."

"Precisely, he's too good..." Bai Rong turned around and asked, "What makes you think I am worthy of someone like him?"

"Shouldn't women look for a man with better conditions than them? Forget about whether you're worthy of him, and just focus on winning his heart over!" Liu Yan gulped on her coffee as she had to work the night shift.

Bai Rong just let out a faint smile without saying a word.

Her phone rang.

She saw that it was Gu Mingchen and hesitated for a bit, but decided that it was better to clear things up with him.

She didn't want to start a new relationship at the moment as she was still healing from the wounds left by her previous one.

Bai Rong answered the call.

"Are you alright? I heard you took five days off! I'm making the arrangements for your mother's release right now. I'll have someone hand you the plane tickets for Provence later. There will be someone there to pick you up when you arrive."

As she heard the concern in his voice, she felt a painful sensation in her heart and tears began to fall.

However, she believed that she was unworthy of his kindness and didn't want to owe him any more favors.

"No need. I don't feel like traveling right now. Besides, my mother's condition is too serious to go anyway. I'd like to treat you to dinner tonight, are you free?" Bai Rong said.

"Sure, I'll come pick you up."

"Meet me at the entrance of Starbucks Coffee Shop at Shuiyue International in one hour. I'll hang up now."

Liu Yan laughed, "That general is a decent man. Just sleep with him tonight."

"I'm there to clear things up with him." Bai Rong said calmly.

"What are you going to make clear? Don't you go rejecting him now." Liu Yan was getting anxious.

"I've been divorced once, and got raped three years ago. On top of that, my mother is mentally ill. Do you think his family will accept me?" Bai Rong asked.

"It'll be fine as long as there is true love. Why are you belittling yourself like that? There aren't many women out there prettier than you. You were just unlucky to have met Su Xuyan." Her friend didn't want her to give up on him.

"Su Xuyan had agreed to be separated for a month and will get divorced with me if nothing happens. I'll be free by then. I just want to live my life in peace, free from Su Xuyan's possessive behavior. Gu Mingchen is someone I cannot afford to mess around with." Bai Rong had thought things through.

"Alright, I won't pressure you any further since you aren't divorced yet. But Bai, you should care for yourself more instead of only caring for others all the time, or you will be the one who suffers." Liu Yan advised.

"At least my conscience will be clear that way." Bai Rong went to her room and retrieved her ATM card. She then made a trip to the bank and withdrew the money.

By the time she arrived at Starbucks, Gu Mingchen was already seated inside near a window.

The evening rays fell on his gorgeous face which seemed to be troubled as he stirred his coffee mindlessly without drinking it at all.

When he looked up and saw her, he put a hundred dollar bill on the table and walked towards her.

"Are you alright?"

"Are you alright?"

They both asked, almost at the same time.

Bai Rong laughed.

Even if he wasn't alright, there was nothing much that she could do for him either. The most she could hope for was to not cause him any further trouble.

"There are lots of restaurants on the fourth floor. What would you like to eat?" Bai Rong asked.

"I'm fine with anything." Gu Mingchen said as he passed her a bottle of ointment, "My friend made this. Apply it on the wound, and it won't leave a scar."

Bai Rong felt her eyes tear up a little as she accepted the ointment.

They soon reached the fourth floor, and Bai Rong walked into a high-end western restaurant.

Gu Mingchen sat down in front of her, "If you're worried about your mother's condition, I can have the medical staff go along with you."

"Chief!" Bai Rong shouted.

His kindness was too much for her to bear.

The light in his eyes faded when he heard the way she addressed him.

"I had thought about being friends with you at first, since it's not often one gets to befriend someone of your status. But after giving it some thought, I realized I have no right to be your friend."

Gu Mingchen narrowed his eyes, "What do you mean by that?"

Bai Rong lowered her head.

Cruel words would still sound cruel no matter when you say them, wouldn't they?

"I just want to live a peaceful and ordinary life."

"And how have I made it otherwise? Bai Rong, have you fallen in love with me or something?" Gu Mingchen tensed up as he asked her that.

You Owe Me, My Love Chapter 48

Fall in love?

What right did she have to do so?

Bai Rong was about to say something when she noticed through the corner of her eye a familiar face coming into the restaurant. It looked like a friend of Su Xuyan, named Zhang Zi. He was the guy that addressed her with Your Majesty and was tied up by her.

She didn't want to be seen by him just in case he would bring her trouble by telling Su Xuyan about her.

Bai Rong had no time to think and just hid herself under the table.

Gu Mingchen was dumbfounded.

He frowned as he lifted the tablecloth, "What are you doing?"

There's someone I know coming our way, I don't want to be seen by him." Bai Rong explained.

She saw Zhang Zi walking towards them and tried to pull the tablecloth back down.

Gu Mingchen felt angry, "Do I embarrass you that much?"

She wanted to pull the tablecloth down but he wouldn't let her.

Bai Rong saw that there was no time to change her hiding spot as Zhang Zi was getting closer, so she buried her face in Gu Mingchen's lap instead.

However, she seemed to have buried her face in the wrong spot, as she could clearly feel his masculine bulge rising rapidly.

Chief Gu's penis was just too sensitive.

She felt her ears burning red with embarrassment.

Zhang Zi walked up to Gu Mingchen.

"Hello, Chief Gu. I didn't expect to see you here. My company has some history with Gu Group, but I didn't see you at the banquet that night." Zhang Zi greeted him warmly.

Gu Mingchen said coldly without even looking at him, "Piss off."

Zhang Zi was not blind to what was happening either.

He saw a woman with her face buried in the chief's crotch and pictured what was going on. Realizing that he had spoiled the fun, he said apologetically, "Please, take your time."

Bai Rong saw that he had left them, but he didn't go far. He was seated somewhere nearby with a phone in his hand, and would occasionally glance over at them.

She suspected that he was telling Su Xuyan about what he saw.

Bai Rong didn't dare come out as she would be dead for sure if Zhang Zi were to identify her.

Gu Mingchen gave her a look and lowered the tablecloth. He then called Lieutenant Shang, "I'm in a western restaurant on the fourth floor of Shuiyue International. Get everybody out of here in ten minutes."

Bai Rong looked at him gratefully.

He did not look at her as his anger was building up over time, and he was exuding an air of hostility all over.

Lieutenant Shang soon arrived with a group of men. They cleared out the restaurant quickly and formed a circle around the restaurant in a ten meter radius. No one was allowed anywhere within that radius.

He pulled Bai Rong out from under the table and sat her on the table.

Bai Rong had a bad feeling in her gut, as she had never seen him this angry before.

He looked like a starving beast as he kissed her aggressively on the lips, sucking all the air out of her.

Bai Rong felt nothing but pain on her lips and pushed his shoulders with all her might as she didn't want to have an intimate and ambiguous relationship with him.

But the more she pushed at him, the more he seemed to lose control over himself. He grabbed her hands and pinned them on the table.

Bai Rong was now lying with her back on the table as her eyes met his.

Gu Mingchen's chest heaved as he stared her in the eyes, almost as if she was his meal.

"Bai Rong, let's get together." Gu Mingchen said as he bent her knees over.

He started to plant kisses on her leg, moving upwards from her knee.

Bai Rong was so terrified that even her knees were trembling.

"Gu Mingchen, we shouldn't be like this. I am a married woman, so there can be nothing between us. You'll just end up ruining your future being with me."

Gu Mingchen laughed.

"Do you think I care about your social status? You're getting divorced soon, right? Besides, who told you that I'd ruin my future if we got together?" Gu Mingchen questioned her.

"This is inappropriate for us right now as I am still married." Bai Rong struggled as she tried to get off the table.

Gu Mingchen stared at her with a cold look in his eyes.

There was no point in him forcing her if she was that unwilling.

Gu Mingchen let go of her and said coldly, "Go."

Bai Rong paused for a moment before getting up from the table.

He got back into his seat and just gave her a cold stare.

Bai Rong dared not look him in the eye and lowered her head as she said, "I will forever remember the help you have given me, chief. I wish you all the best."

"Get out of here." Gu Mingchen said.

He had wanted her, not her blessings.

Bai Rong took the money out from her handbag and placed them on the table, "This is for the cosmetics and the clothes."

She turned and left right after saying that.

Gu Mingchen's eyes lit up with anger when he saw how determined she was in drawing a line between them.

He pushed all the money on the table to the ground.....

Bai Rong canceled her leave request for the next few days.

Su Xuyan seemed to have disappeared as he had stopped calling her, and none of his women had come to harass her either.

Her days passed by very peacefully.

She would occasionally think of the handsome and elegant Gu Mingchen.

The time she spent with him was enough to become her precious memories and keep her warm for a long, long time.

It was Friday, but she didn't visit her mother.

Her mother had told her to bring Su Xuyan along with her on her next visit, but she no longer had the man with her.

All Bai Rong did was call the nurses there and instructed them to take care of her mother's hygiene as she didn't dare go there herself.

A knocking could be heard on the door. Liu Yan was seen standing at the doorstep, "You've rejected such a good man! Don't you regret it?"

"The life I am living now is the one I want." Bai Rong said calmly as she tidied up the table.

"I think you're regretting it." Liu Yan said softly.

Bai Rong looked up at her friend, "I know I made the right decision. Come on, I'll cook something nice for you tonight."

She then took off her white coat and hung it up before wrapping her arm around Liu Yan's.

Liu Yan glanced at her and couldn't help but feel that she was not actually happy.

She wanted to do something for Bai Rong so that she would not miss out on a great guy like Gu Mingchen.

At night, Liu Yan brought Bai Rong out to get her hair done on purpose, and secretly called Gu Mingchen.

Gu Mingchen answered the call.

"Hello, I'm Bai Rong's friend. My name is Liu Yan." Liu Yan tried to keep her voice down.

"Mhmm." Gu Mingchen responded.

"She likes to keep everything bottled up inside. Do you know why she rejected you?" Liu Yan said.

Gu Mingchen was silent.

Liu Yan continued, "She actually likes you quite a lot. Do you remember that Russian book of yours? The scumbag Su Xuyan threw it into a pond, but she treasured it so much that she dried it for you and even tried looking everywhere for the exact same book! Now, she's learning Russian every day at home and even copied down all the notes you wrote in there."

You Owe Me, My Love Chapter 49

"That's not enough to prove that she likes me right? Or maybe she just thinks she owes me a book." Gu Mingchen self-deprecated.

As he recalled the scene of Bai Rong returning the money to him, his eyes turned cold as ice.

"She likes you. I'm sure of that. She is always staring into space while holding your Russian book. She rejected you because she and Su Xuyan came to an agreement that after living apart for one month, they will get a divorce. She doesn't want to risk him changing his mind, so she decides to avoid you for a while." Liu Yan quickly explained.

Gu Mingchen's brows furrowed. He appeared to be deep in thought.

Liu Yan did not know what his silence meant and carried on saying, "You should take more initiative. Rong is a very passive person. Maybe you could use some force."

Gu Mingchen was speechless.

Would force work? She'd probably hate me for life if I really do that.

"Let me tell you a secret. Bai Rong and her husband had not slept together even once. You know, as a woman, she also has needs. If you can make her feel good, she will definitely be committed to you." Liu Yan said, feeling apologetic towards Bai Rong.

If her friend found out about her conversation with Gu Mingchen, she would probably sever all ties with her.

"Are you sure?" Gu Mingchen was not convinced.

"I have a blind date event tomorrow and Rong is accompanying me there. It is going to be held in the form of a masquerade party and Rong will be spotting a new hairstyle. I'll take a picture and send it to you, and I'll also send you the address of the event. You will be there right?" Liu Yan extended the invitation to him.

As Gu Mingchen did not say anything, Liu Yan was not confident that he would go. "I'll just text you the address." She said.

Then, Liu Yan hung up and texted Gu Mingchen the address, but he did not reply.

Liu Yan set off to the hair salon.

She had requested for the director of the salon to personally serve Bai Rong.

Bai Rong had a small face and fair skin, but she was not very particular with grooming. She never had any treatment done to her hair before, including coloring and perming.

The director had cut Bai Rong's hair into a bob that was now sporting a new brown color. She had also gotten a keratin treatment.

Bai Rong's new hairstyle framed her face well and made it look even smaller. Her complexion also looked more flattering against her new hair color. That, together with her big eyes and full-looking face, added to Bai Rong's allure. It was a perfect look for her.

Bai Rong was already a natural beauty. And now, she looked stunning.

"Su Xuyan has really poor taste. He already has such a big beauty at home, but he continues fooling around." As Liu Yan spoke, she snapped a picture of Bai Rong and sent it to Gu Mingchen.

"Can we don't talk about him?" Bai Rong stood up.

"Of course. That jerk can scram. We have better options." The corners of Liu Yan's mouth raised into a sly smile.

Will the chief be there tomorrow? Liu Yan wondered.

The next morning, Liu Yan was feeling very excited as she put on makeup for Bai Rong.

Bai Rong was dumbfounded. "Yan, I'm only accompanying you there. I'm not the star of the night. You should be putting on makeup for yourself, not me."

"That goes without saying." Liu Yan said, as she applied a smudge-proof liquid lipstick on Bai Rong. "Of course I will be doing it for myself. But you will be going with me, so you have to look good too, otherwise it will reflect badly on me. So, be good. Come to my place to pick an outfit later."

"OK." Bai Rong did not want to be a drag on her friend too.

One of the outfits Liu Yan picked for Bai Rong was a white silk bell sleeve dress matched with a black tube top.

Bai Rong's well-endowed curves could vaguely be seen through the thin material of the dress.

She had always dressed conservatively, and that did not do justice to her good figure.

Liu Yan was fervently hoping that the chief would be deeply mesmerized by Bai Rong, and...

She grew increasingly excited just by thinking about that and was really looking forward to the party.

Bai Rong saw the three sets of outfits Liu Yan had picked out for her and herself each plus a set of bikini swimsuits.

"Why do we need to bring so many clothes?" Bai Rong asked in shock.

"That place is quite far and it's by the beach. The plan is to be there for two days and we will be staying there tonight. We can never go wrong with extra clothes anyway. We can just leave it in the car." Liu Yan explained.

"Why would your blind date take two days?" Bai Rong asked.

Liu Yan shrugged. "It's decided by my dad. I guess he really wants me to find someone there. He's getting old and it's natural for him to get a little anxious. I am just trying to make him happy. Oh, I forgot to tell you. The woman who gave me the recording has disappeared."

"Maybe she's afraid of offending Su Xuyan. It doesn't really matter to me. Anyway, Su Xuyan and I are already living separately now. We will be officially divorced one month later." Bai Rong said.

"Then you should also get to know some guys tonight. It's always good to have options." Liu Yan urged her cheekily.

"Better not. Let's go." Bai Rong helped to carry the suitcase to the car.

The event venue was indeed quite far away.

Liu Yan drove for three hours straight before they finally reached.

But it was worth it. The place was gorgeous. It was a private villa facing the sea, and right in front of the villa was a beach.

Sunshades and deck chairs lined up on the sand. On the beach were also palapas and women clothed in bikinis wearing masquerade masks. It was an exotic view indeed.

There were all kinds of luxury cars parked outside the villa.

When Bai Rong got off the car, the ocean breeze kissed her face and her hair swayed gently in the wind.

It was refreshing to be there. The atmosphere would put anyone in a carefree and relaxed state.

Liu Yan glanced towards the beach. She wasn't able to recognize Gu Mingchen as everyone was wearing masks.

Did he come? Liu Yan thought to herself.

Liu Yan pulled Bai Rong towards the beach when they were stopped by two expressionless bodyguards. "Young Master Shen had instructed that everyone needs to be registered upon arrival. It's for room arrangement purposes."

"OK. We'll do that." They followed one of the bodyguards into the villa for Liu Yan to register.

Before they entered the villa, they went into a small room that had six big-sized bodyguards in it.

Liu Yan signed her name in the registration book.

A bodyguard confirmed her name against the guests' list before giving her the room access card and number tag. They were only allowed entry into the villa after that.

That got Liu Yan worried. If everyone who comes here needs to sign their real name, would Gu Mingchen be able to get in?

Liu Yan let out a sigh. "Let's see the room." She said.

When the bodyguard opened the room door, the curtains were all drawn down. It was a little dark inside.

The lounge area had been purposefully decorated like a bar, completed with a bar counter, neon lights, disco ball, stage, sound system, and alcohol, etc. Men and women were already hanging out in the room.

After Bai Rong and Liu Yan put down their luggage, they went back to the room.

They chose a corner to sit down and Bai Rong looked towards the stage.

A woman in a mask was singing on the stage. She had a number tag on her with a number five on it.

She had a melodious voice and sang very well. A crowd had already gathered to hear her sing.

“Why are there so many people at this blind date event? Are you sure we are at the right place? It feels more like a talent show to me.” Bai Rong was dubious.

Liu Yan shrugged and said, “Beats me. My dad arranged it. Maybe all the bachelors and bachelorettes from the circle are here. It’s an eye opener for us. There’s nothing for us to lose anyway.”

“Yeah.” Bai Rong said indifferently.

Just then, the bodyguards opened the door.

A man wearing a wolf masquerade mask entered.

He had an imposing presence; His broad shoulders and good build were perfectly showcased in a hand-tailored Italian suit.

His eagle eyes scanned across the room and landed on Bai Rong. There was an unfathomable glint in his eyes, as though a hibernating beast was ready to awaken.

You Owe Me, My Love Chapter 50

The woman with the number five tag had already finished singing and a new girl was on the stage.

“Do you want to go up and sing?” Bai Rong asked Liu Yan.

“I’ll observe a little more first.” Liu Yan answered while she continued snacking.

“Look at that non-existent figure. It’s like she hasn’t gone through puberty. Who’s she?” A man, wearing a number ten tag, who was seated in front of Liu Yan asked the man next to him.

“No idea. They can bring friends so I don’t know everyone here. There are quite a few unfamiliar faces.” Shen Yiyan said in an apathetic voice. He turned around and looked towards Liu Yan, giving her a smirk.

What’s with that smirk?! Liu Yan glanced at Shen Yiyan.

Liu Yan thought his voice sounded familiar.

“Where have all the hot babes gone? Why would they even allow this sort of woman to enter. It’s an insult to my eyes.” Number ten continued in a condescending tone.

Liu Yan didn’t want to continue staying in the room anymore.

“Rong, let’s go hang out at the beach.” Liu Yan said, as she dragged Bai Rong away from her seat.

As the former walked too quickly, she didn’t notice that a waiter, who was carrying some dishes, was approaching Bai Rong.

Just as he was about to clash into Bai Rong, the wolf-masked man swiftly grabbed her arm and pulled her out of the way.

Liu Yan did not even realize what had happened. When she turned around, she saw Bai Rong laying in the arms of that man.

“Look where you are going. That was so reckless. Stop being so clumsy.” The man in the wolf mask said in a low voice.

The way he spoke was very domineering, demanding, sharp, and cold.

Why did he sound like... Gu Mingchen?

Bai Rong’s back instinctively straightened in shock, and she looked at him.

Bai Rong’s heart was thumping hard.

She must be crazy. It was just someone who sounded like Gu Mingchen and it already sent her heart into overdrive.

Gu Mingchen would never attend this kind of blind date event.

“Rong, are you ok?” Liu Yan pulled Bai Rong towards her.

“I’m fine.” Bai Rong said as she shook her head.

Liu Yan took a glance at the wolf-masked man and said, “My friend is Gu Mingchen’s woman. Don’t try to hit on her.”

Bai Rong’s face was already flushing with embarrassment. She was glad that she could hide behind the mask.

Since when did she become Gu Mingchen’s woman?

She felt so embarrassed that she walked out of the villa at her fastest speed.

The crowd on the beach was cheering.

A limited edition Maserati was parked in the middle of roses arranged into a heart shape.

Red ribbons were attached to the two side mirrors of the car dancing to the rhythm of the sea breeze. It was a romantic scene.

Liu Yan dragged Bai Rong to see what was going on.

Su Xuyan walked out of the car, and the corners of his mouth raised into a sly smile.

He was holding a heart-shaped balloon. Attached to the end of the balloon string was the key to the Maserati. Su Xuyan walked towards Xing Jinnian, who was in the crowd.

“OMG, he is so good looking!” There was a commotion in the crowd. The ladies were all looking towards Xing Jinnian with envy.

"I made a trip to the US just to get you this car you wanted. But you haven't been a good girl. I heard you went for a blind date event once I landed. Are you trying to make me angry?" Su Xuyan said, but his tone was filled with loving indulgence.

A shy-looking Xing Jinnian accepted the balloon from Su Xuyan.

This latest model, customized Maserati had to cost at least five hundred thousand.

"I am just accompanying my friend." Xing Jinnian explained.

As she was speaking, Su Xuyan lifted her chin and kissed her on the lips in front of the crowd.

The crowd cheered.

Liu Yan could feel anger rising in her. "What did he mean by that? He's still your husband but he's already trying to please another woman? This beast really knows how to put on an act. A few hundred thousand seemed like peanuts to him huh. Why was he never that generous towards you?"

Bai Rong simply smiled.

She did not feel as much emotions as she thought she would. Looking at how sweet they were behaving towards each other; she should be able to get the divorce very soon.

Liu Yan walked away to call Gu Mingchen.

He answered.

"Chief, are you here? Bai Rong has been bullied!" Liu Yan tried to sound as pitiful as she could.

"I saw everything. No need to be bothered by that." Gu Mingchen sounded stern in his deep voice.

He saw? He really came?

Liu Yan started scanning the surroundings for Gu Mingchen excitedly.

She spotted that man in a wolf mask talking on the phone and ran towards him. In an instance, Liu Yan was already standing in front of him.

“Chief Gu?” She asked cautiously.

“Yup.” Gu Mingchen acknowledged.

“It’s so wonderful that you really came! I will take Bai Rong back to the room in a while. We are in room 3022. You should have a good chat with her. Bai Rong really likes you. Heh. I’m going off now!” Liu Yan said chirpily.

She ran off towards Bai Rong and dragged her away from the beach.

“Yan, what’s the matter?” Bai Rong did not know why Liu Yan was so excited.

“Let’s not stay here anymore. We are going to get sore eyes. Let’s go back to our room. I have a present for you.” Liu Yan said all in one breath.

“What present is it?” Bai Rong’s curiosity was sparked.

“Take a shower first. You’ll know after that.” Liu Yan nudged Bai Rong into the shower and switched on the tap for her.

“What present is it that would require me to shower?” Bai Rong was puzzled.

“Why are you asking so many questions? You know you can trust me.” Liu Yan reassured her confidently,

After Bai Rong removed her clothes, Liu Yan carried them away as she walked out of the bathroom.

“Why are you taking my clothes away?”

“I’ll bring them in again later.” Liu Yan replied without turning around.

Bai Rong felt that something was fishy the more she thought about it. After she finished showering, Liu Yan was still not back with her clothes.

"Yan? Are you there? Yan..." Bai Rong called out.

But there was no reply.

Bai Rong had no other choice but to walk out of the bathroom, wrapping a towel around her. Right away, she saw the man in the wolf mask sitting on the couch in front of her.

She had a shock. "Who are you? What are you doing in my room?"

Before Gu Mingchen could say anything, the door opened and Liu Yan popped her head in. "He is the present I got for you. Rong, Su Xuyan already has another woman. You should start finding someone yourself." She said, feeling very pleased with her present.

Bai Rong was speechless.

"What nonsense are you saying?!" Bai Rong rushed towards her friend.

But before Bai Rong could reach her, Liu Yan had already shut the door and barricaded it with a broomstick.

No matter how Bai Rong tried to turn the knob, the door would not budge.

She felt as though her friend had done her in big time.

"Yan! Open the door, Yan! Open the door!" Bai Rong shouted as she pounded on the door.

Of course, Liu Yan was going to ignore her.

There was nothing Bai Rong could do. She turned around and faced the wolf-masked man.

He was still sitting there, quietly staring at her with a pair of deep-set eyes.

"Err... That's just one of my friend's pranks. She's always like that. Please don't mind her." Bai Rong said apologetically.

Gu Mingchen stood up and walked towards her.

Bai Rong instinctively moved backwards until she felt the coldness of the door against her back.

Gu Mingchen reached out his hand and put it beside Bai Rong's head, against the door. "I think you already knew who I am."

Bai Rong's heart skipped a beat. With shaky hands, she lifted Gu Mingchen's mask.

He really was... Gu Mingchen.

"Why are you here?" Bai Rong asked him in shock.

"Why do you think I'm here?" Gu Mingchen threw the question back to her. He was looking at her with blazing eyes.

Bai Rong could see her reflection clearly through his deep-set eyes.

She tried to recall the events leading up to this, and realized Liu Yan had indeed been behaving very strangely. "Did Yan ask you to come?"

Gu Mingchen lifted her chin.

Bai Rong could feel his breaths falling onto her face.

She was so nervous that she could feel her heart in her mouth.

The look Gu Mingchen had on his face spelt danger.
