

MR. DENVER by beyondlocks Chapter 14

Jacob William

While I was waiting for her to change to the second dress, I couldn't stop myself from looking at the pictures that I took earlier. She's so beautiful that it amazed me. I was speechless when I saw her in that wedding dress. My heart was beating fast and I can feel that my body turned hot that second.

She was so beautiful that.. her image glued into my head. I can't stop looking at her and damn I can see her forever in that wedding dress.

"Are you ready?" She asked and I put down my phone ready to see her in the second dress.

"Yeah, I'm ready." I said but my heart was racing inside. I was more than ready but I won't say that out loud. The staff pulled the curtain and my jaw dropped. The second one was even more beautiful. She made me speechless all over again and I swear that she made me want to take her to the church this second.

"What do you think? I like this better than the first one." She said as she tried to turn around showing me the back of the dress.

"Yeah.. you're beautiful." I said as I looked at her from head to toe scanning every inch of her. God, how can she look so beautiful in wedding dress?

"What do you think? Do you like this one or the first one?" She asked and I quickly took out my phone to take some pictures for her later as I'm debating whether I like the first one or this one.

"I think I like this one.. it's more simple." I said. Yeah simple but still ravishing.

"Really? Okay.. let's try the last one then." She said and they closed the curtain again. I leaned back to the sofa and I closed my eyes. God gracious, she's so beautiful that I wish she can try another 50 dresses. Why am I starting to love the idea of us getting married? Jacob, you're a sick guy. You wanted to marry her just to see her in a wedding dress?

After a few minutes, she was ready to reveal her third dress. I put down my phone and ready to see her.

"I think this is the one.." She said behind those curtains.

"We'll see about that." I said and they opened the curtain. My jaw dropped and my eyes widened. The last dress fit her perfectly and she looked so beautiful in the last dress. I was speechless and I gave her a nod letting her know that this is the one.

It was perfect. The dress was perfect for her like it was meant for her. I got up from my seat and walked towards her.

"What do you think?" She asked as she showed me the back part.

"I love it.. I think this is the one." I said looking at her again from head to toe.

"Can you give us a moment to decide?" Catherine asked Anny and the other staff.

"Sure." They left us alone and I turned to Catherine again.

"You love this one?" I asked and she nodded.

"It's really beautiful and it's simple but elegant. I love it.. what do you think?" She asked me.

"I love this one a lot. I think this is the one." She said.

"If you love it then we can save this one." I said smiling and she nodded smiling. I put my hands on her small waist and looked straight to her eyes.

"You look.. so beautiful." I said truthfully and she blushed.

"Thanks." She said shyly and I pulled her body to mine. I kissed her because I can't help or control myself anymore. She kissed me back and she put her arms around my head.

"Jacob." She moaned.

"Hmm?"

"We need to stop.. I have to change." She said between kisses. Instead of letting her go, I kissed her more and she pushed me away gently.

"I have to change.. or else you will ruin the dress." She smirked and I gestured her to wait. I quickly took my phone and took a picture of her before she walked into the fitting room again.

"Can you call Anny?" She asked and I shook my head teasing her.

"Don't make me kick your a!" She hissed and I laughed. I walked out calling Anny to help her get off the dress. Anny and the other staff walked in. I sat down on the sofa again trying to get my sense together. I was losing control earlier and I need to get my sense back.

She came out a few minutes later with her casual clothes. She talked to Anny about the dress and we walked outside. Anny led us to the room where we can book and pay for the dress. Catherine finished out the papers for the third dress and when she was going to pay for it, I paid it for her quickly. She looked at me in disbelief and I just gestured her to finish up the papers.

I walked out from the room to take some fresh air outside. Not long after that, she walked out from the store with all the papers and the receipt.

"Where to go now?" I asked her and she looked at me with an unreadable look.

"What?" I asked and she shook her head. I unlocked the car and we got into the car.

"You really like the dress huh? You can't take your hands off of me." She said and I turned to her as I put on my seatbelt.

"You look ravishing." I said truthfully.

"Wow.. what a nice word to describe it." She said smirking and I leaned towards her.

"Why? You want to continue what we left off earlier? I don't mind doing it here." I said smirking back at her and she looked at me in disbelief.

"Perv!"

"I'm a man, you can't blame me." I said and she glared at me right away.

"Just drive.. I'm starving."
