

Chapter 1820

“Dad, am I brave?” Aino threw herself into Sebastian’s arms.

“Dad, I am very smelly, I’m covered in dove poop. I also got some poop stuck on me for having slept in the restroom, and I am very hungry, I am very brave. I did not ask others for help along the way because I know that there are a lot of liars now.”

Speaking of that, the filthy little child’s tone became glum for a moment. “Even my grandpa had lied to me. He said he is your dad and his relationship with you is the same as my relationship with you. Dad...I will never trust Grandpa again in the future.

Dad, I am back already. I remember the routes. Dad, I

Dad, I am back ready. I remember the routes, Dad. I originally wanted to come back earlier, but I only know how to return to my kindergarten from the place I had escaped.

Therefore, I had to first find my kindergarten, and then find my way back home from there after that. Dad, what's the matter? Why are you stunned? Are you dumbfounded, Dad? Don't frighten me, Dad..." Aino cried.

She held her father's face and she lightly hit her father's cheeks again and again with her little hands. However, her father still did not move. Aino turned her head to look at Kingston, and he was also stunned there without moving an inch. Sabrina looked towards Aunt Lewis and Aunt Tianna, who were sitting in looked toward Aunt Lewis and Aunt Tianna, who were sitting in the living room, and they were also looking at Aino in a daze as if they were wooden sculptures.

“Dad...” Aino shouted loudly. Only then did she wake Sebastian up. The phone in Sebastian’s hand fell to the floor. This was the second time he broke his phone’s screen within those few days.

“Sebastian! Sebastian!” Sean was shouting with all his might on the other end of the call, “Sebastian, is Aino back already? Has Aino returned? Tell me, is Aino back already? Sebastian!”

Sebastian did not answer him. He just held his daughter’s face in return. “Aino, it’s you! You’re back? I am not dreaming? Let me hand away, his thumb was already tinged with blood from his bite. However, this little bit of injury did not bother Sebastian at all.

He suddenly lifted his daughter and spun her in the living room without stopping. "Oh, oh, oh, my daughter is back! My daughter actually came back! My daughter...my Aino..."

He ran to the balcony alone and roared loudly. "My daughter is back... Oh..."

He was a man like steel, who was more than thirty years old, but at that moment, he was howling to the heavens so drearily and miserably. He turned around and looked at Aino while he was covered in tears. Kingston was also crying.

covered in tears. Kingston was also crying.

That was right! Aino was back already. As long as Aino could return, Sebastian would not feel heartbroken at all if the Ford Group had to be shut down. However, Sabrina had left. Aino's mother, Sabrina, had already boarded the ship for the sake of saving Aino.

Both Aunt Lewis and Aunt Tianna were also covered in tears. "What in the world is this? Why didn't God open his eyes? Why does He want to torture madam, who is such a nice person? God! You're being unfair!"

Seeing that everyone in the house was crying, Aino suddenly had a sense of foreboding. She Seeing that even she in the house was crying, Aino suddenly had a sense of foreboding. She did not ask. She just sped to her parents' bedroom like a little bunny, but she did not see her mother's figure. Aino still did not give up. She went to the restroom, but her mother was not there either. She went to her mother's walk-in closet, but still, no trace of her mother was found. Aino turned around and went to her nursery, her toy room, her father's study, and the rooftop. There was no sign of her mother in all those places. Where was her mother?

She looked at her father with horror.

Chapter 1821

Her voice was trembling hard. “Dad, where is my...mother?”

Sebastian looked at his own daughter in a daze. How could God actually be so cruel to him? Was God pushing him? Was God punishing him for being so vicious and heartless that he did not even show mercy to his older half-brothers? Was God punishing him for not taking good care of his mother? Was God punishing him for not taking care of his father and his grandparents? However, of all of those things, which of them could he be blamed for? If he did not kill those older half-brothers of his back then, the person who died would be him.

brothers of his back then, the person who died would be him. They were the ones who lay their hands on him first. Sebastian only retaliated. Retaliated!

What about his mother?

Sebastian already did his best to take care of his mother. At least Sabrina had loved and cared for his mother very much, but what was the consequence that Sabrina got? She was already eight months pregnant, but she was taken away to be a hostage! Were the heavens insisting on provoking Sebastian and letting him go on a killing spree? ①

At that moment, Sebastian's expression was ferocious. Just for a moment, he actually had the thought of bringing the entire Ford Residence to the ground! What father? What

the thought of pulling the entire Ford Residence to the ground! What father? What stepmother? What grandpa and grandma? If it were not for the Ford Residence, which stood firmly erect for a hundred years, then where would there be all past kindness and grudges!

First thing first, his mother would certainly live a very good life. Perhaps she would have been a renowned Architecture Designer abroad, and the person she married would have been an intellect! Then, the love-hate relationship between brothers would not have existed between him and Holden! That meant that all of these grudges would cease to exist as well! It was all because of the Ford Residence! The Ford Residence was the root cause of everything! Sebastian

The Ford Residence was the root cause of everything! Sebastian clenched both of his hands so tightly that they became as hard as steel.

Right at that moment, Sebastian's phone rang. He took it up and looked at it and saw that it was actually Sabrina's phone number. Had she not discarded her number and switched off her phone? Without thinking twice, Sebastian immediately answered the call. "Hello, is it...Sabrina?"

On the other end of the call, Sabrina was already crying so inconsolably that she could not speak at all. She no longer planned to live anymore. She had already discussed with Sebastian and had resolutely come aboard Holden's ship. However, Aino was not on the ship. At that

Holden's ship, however, Aino was not on the ship. At that moment, Sabrina was going crazy. She truly had broken down. Sabrina, who had always been strong and resilient, sat on the deck and bawled her eyes out. When Holden came in front of her to talk her out of it, she scratched Holden face up so badly that it was all covered in bloodied slits.

"I'm sorry, Sabrina. I'm sorry. I'm very heartbroken to have lost Aino as well! Believe me, I don't love Aino any less than you. I love her very much. I treated her as my own child," said Holden, who was incomparably heartbroken. ①

"Go to hell! Why didn't you just knock yourself to death! Why aren't you dead from drowning?"

knock yourself to death! Why aren't you dead from drowning? You d*mned pervert! D*mned pervert! D*mned pervert! You're a maggot! Ten thousand, no, a million of you combined would not even compare to my husband! Maggot! Go to hell! I feel disgusted just looking at you! You're a d*mned maggot!"

Sabrina had cursed him with all the most disgusting terms, so much so that Holden looked at her with a miserable gaze. “

Sabrina, am I that unbearable in your eyes? At the very least, I am a man who had saved you twice. In your eyes, I am just a maggot?”

“Go to hell! Go to hell! Kill me! Just kill me now!” Sabrina ran straight towards the railing crazily with her pregnant belly.

straight toward the railing
crazily with her pregnant belly.

She truly was too ashamed to live. She had made a promise to Sebastian that she would bring Aino back. However, where was Aino? Aino was gone. Aino was Sabrina everything. With Aino's life or death being unknown, Sabrina could not live on anymore. "Let me die..."

Holden hugged Sabrina. "Sabrina! What if Aino did not die? Call home. Perhaps Aino had already gone home?"

Sabrina sneered. "B*llshit! You maggot! Aino is only six years old!" Sabrina said that, but she still gave Sebastian a call. She said while crying inconsolably, "Sebastian, I have failed. Aino, she ..."

Sabrina. What if Aino did not die? Call home. Perhaps Aino had already gone home?"

Sabrina sneered. "B*llshit! You maggot! Aino is only six years old!" Sabrina said that, but she still gave Sebastian a call. She said while crying inconsolably, "Sebastian, I have failed. Aino, she ..."

"Our daughter is back, Sabrina." Sebastian sobbed miserably.

Chapter 1822

Sabrina instantly stopped sobbing. "What did you...say, Sebastian? What did you say?" She did not dare to believe her ears. She felt that how could fate make such a joke on her?

"Our daughter, she came back on her own," said Sebastian miserably.

Sabrina was speechless. She paused for a very long moment. She could hear Sebastian sobbing on the other end of the call.

"Sebastian..." After a very long time, Sabrina said in a very weak and vague tone, "Since Aino had already gone home, I feel at ease, Sebastian. You have to take good care of Aino. After that... find yourself another kind ease, Sebastian you have to take good care of Aino. After that... find yourself another kind hearted woman..."

"Stop it! Don't say that! Sabrina, I'll wait for you to come back! You will be back very soon! You're not allowed to say that!" Sebastian suddenly flew into a rage.

Holden heard Sebastian's voice through the call, so he already heard that Aino had returned to Sebastian's side. To Holden, that was just like a stab to his wound with a knife. It turned out that all the familial affection that Aino had shown him was a lie. It turned out that Aino still exhausted all her ideas to get back to her parents' side. D*mned! At that moment, Holden wanted to kill everyone in his mned! At that moment, Holden wanted to kill everyone in his surroundings. However, when he saw Sabrina looking like that, he suddenly became softhearted.

He hugged Sabrina and begged her desperately. "Sabrina, don't die! For the sake of the child in your belly and for Aino, you can't kill yourself. Think about it, Aino had already returned to her father's side. How happy is that?" In order to console Sabrina, Holden had no choice but to endure the pain and tell her that.

Sabrina looked at Holden. "Holden, are you...are you willing to let me go back and reunite with my husband and my daughter?"

"No!" Holden snapped.

my husband and my daughter!

“No!” Holden snapped.

“Ha!” Sabrina sneered.

Holden told Sabrina eagerly, “He doesn’t love you! Sabrina, wake up, alright? You’re already eight months pregnant, but what did Sebastian do? Firstly, he did not take care of you. Secondly, he did not take care of Aino. If he had been a little more concerned with you and your daughter, then do you think I could take you and Aino away? Do you think I will have the chance?”

Sabrina was speechless. It seemed that what Holden said made some sense, right? Sabrina was so angry that she could only smile and look at Holden.

Seeing Sabrina smile, Holden

smile and look golden.

Seeing Sabrina smile, Holden immediately had hope and joy twinkling in his gaze. "Sabrina, listen to me. You've gone through too many sufferings in your life. A huge part of these sufferings was brought on to you by Sebastian. Sabrina, wake up. Sebastian can't bring you any joy. He is a selfish man. He only had his great ambitions and business empire in his eyes and mind. Women and children were dispensable to him. You have to understand this! Sabrina! I, on the other hand, is different."

As he said that, Holden drew the curtains to the cabin and pointed to the largest and brightest room in the cabin for Sabrina to see. "Do you know what's in there?"

in the cabin to see. Do you know what's in there?"

Sabrina shook her head indifferently. "How do I know what's in your cabin?"

"It's a doctor and all the equipment! I even had blood bags with the same blood type as you prepared. Because I was afraid that you'll be giving birth on the ship, so I have got you the doctor, the equipment, the best midwife, and everything.

"Sabrina, although the child that you're carrying is not mine, I will still greatly treasure your life, including the child in your belly. Sabrina, could all this that I have done for you still be not enough to make you feel touched? I have never been a man who prioritizes great will still greatly treasure your life, including the child in your belly. Sabrina, could all this that I have done for you still be not enough to make you feel touched? I have never been a man who prioritizes great ambitions and businesses. I just want to live a simple life. I just want to live a simple life with the person I love. That's all!"

Sabrina was speechless. He said that with such sincerity.

Chapter 1823

Holden was so sincere and humble. Sabrina's temper was suddenly gone. She became dispirited, and then she smiled. "Forget it, Holden. I don't blame you anymore, but please don't stop me. Anyway, my daughter has already returned to my husband's side, and although I have a child in my belly, my husband still hasn't seen the child. Since he hasn't seen the child, then, of course, he would not be looking forward to it that much.

"Besides, Sebastian still has Aino by his side. The father and daughter duo can rely on each other and take care of each other. They will not be lonely, and I am also at ease. Therefore, other. They would not be lonely, and I am also at ease. Therefore, Holden, please don't stop me. I truly don't want to stay in this world anymore. I am done with living already.”

She said that so calmly and firmly. She truly did not wish to live in this world anymore. That was because if Holden could be so audacious in entering and leaving South City without letting Sebastian know, then that clearly meant that Holden certainly had a person behind him as his accomplice. For example, Sean and Rose, or Axel from Kidon City. Perhaps Holden had also joined forces with some residual forces aboard.

Otherwise, Holden would not enter South City so quietly. If it was truly like what Sabrina had enter south of the city quietly. If it was truly like what Sabrina had thought, then she certainly could not face that kind of dangerous situation. That was because Sabrina felt that since she had already come into the clutches of Holden, it truly would be very difficult for her to return to Sebastian's side. With Sebastian temper, he certainly would rescue Sabrina given if he had to go bankrupt. However, what would happen after he had gone bankrupt? How would Sebastian and Aino live then? On the other hand, what if something bad were to happen to Sebastian, then what would happen to Aino? Would she become an orphan?

"I don't want that!" Sabrina knitted her eyebrows in pain. She absolutely could not let Aino knitted her eyes closed in pain. She absolutely could not let Aino become an orphan. Aino was only six years old. The first five years of her life was spent wandering around and destitute, and then she finally had gotten a father for more than a year. No matter what happened, even if Sabrina had to sacrifice herself and the child in her belly that was about to be born, she had to protect Aino's life from then on. Therefore, Sabrina had to die!

“Holden Payne, let me die. This is the best way to resolve the love and hate between you, me, and your older brother! If you were to snatch me away, your brother certainly will not be finished with you in this life. With Sebastian’s temperament, he will not spare you. When the Sebastian's temperament, he will not spare you. When the time comes, if both of you fight to the death over me, then I also can't face my late mother-in-law after I die. Therefore, Holden, let me die."

"No, Sabrina, I love you! I love you!" said Holden desperately.

"But I don't love you! You're a crazy person! Pervert! Psycho! I don't love you! Listen to me, I don't love you! I don't love you! Who do you think you are?"

Holden Payne, I realized that you're truly incredibly perverted! You love someone else's wife and daughter! Even when I'm already pregnant, you also want to love the child in my belly! You do have an innate addiction to being made a cuckold? If you truly liked being addiction to be made a cuckold? If you truly liked being made a cuckold and liked to be the father of someone else's child, then just get yourself a wife and let your wife sleep with someone else. Let her come back after she was pregnant with that person's child. Wouldn't that work? Why must you insist on having me? You truly disgust me!"

Sabrina exhausted all the ways to provoke Holden just for the sake of making him release her as soon as possible. After that, she would jump into the sea!

However, Holden smiled miserably instead. "Sabrina, don't be like this. Don't act like this. I'll just send you back, alright? I will turn the ship around now and send you back.

miserably instead. “Sabrina, don’t be like this. Don’t act like this. I’ll just send you back, alright? I will turn the ship around now and send you back. I’d rather die myself than let any mishap happen to you and Aino. I love you. I love you and Aino, and I love the child in your belly. I sincerely love all of you.”

After saying that, Holden suddenly shouted, “Turn the ship around. Send Sabrina back.”

Sabrina was speechless.

“It’s already too late!” Suddenly, a voice that sounded like thunder came from the the sea.

Chapter 1821

Her voice was trembling hard. “Dad, where is my...mother?”

Sebastian looked at his own daughter in a daze. How could God actually be so cruel to him? Was God pushing him? Was God punishing him for being so vicious and heartless that he did not even show mercy to his older half-brothers? Was God punishing him for not taking good care of his mother? Was God punishing him for not taking care of his father and his grandparents? However, of all of those things, which of them could he be blamed for? If he did not kill those older half-brothers of his back then, the person who died would be him.

brothers of his back then, the person who died would be him. They were the ones who lay their hands on him first. Sebastian only retaliated. Retaliated!

What about his mother?

Sebastian already did his best to take care of his mother. At least Sabrina had loved and cared for his mother very much, but what was the consequence that Sabrina got? She was already eight months pregnant, but she was taken away to be a hostage! Were the heavens insisting on provoking Sebastian and letting him go on a killing spree? ①

At that moment, Sebastian's expression was ferocious. Just for a moment, he actually had the thought of bringing the entire Ford Residence to the ground! What father? What

the thought of pulling the entire Ford Residence to the ground! What father? What stepmother? What grandpa and grandma? If it were not for the Ford Residence, which stood firmly erect for a hundred years, then where would there be all past kindness and grudges!

First thing first, his mother would certainly live a very good life. Perhaps she would have been a renowned Architecture Designer abroad, and the person she married would have been an intellect! Then, the love-hate relationship between brothers would not have existed between him and Holden! That meant that all of these grudges would cease to exist as well! It was all because of the Ford Residence! The Ford Residence was the root cause of everything! Sebastian

The Ford Residence was the root cause of everything! Sebastian clenched both of his hands so tightly that they became as hard as steel.

Right at that moment, Sebastian's phone rang. He took it up and looked at it and saw that it was actually Sabrina's phone number. Had she not discarded her number and switched off her phone? Without thinking twice, Sebastian immediately answered the call. "Hello, is it...Sabrina?"

On the other end of the call, Sabrina was already crying so inconsolably that she could not speak at all. She no longer planned to live anymore. She had already discussed with Sebastian and had resolutely come aboard Holden's ship. However, Aino was not on the ship. At that

Holden's ship, however, Aino was not on the ship. At that moment, Sabrina was going crazy. She truly had broken down. Sabrina, who had always been strong and resilient, sat on the deck and bawled her eyes out. When Holden came in front of her to talk her out of it, she scratched Holden face up so badly that it was all covered in bloodied slits.

"I'm sorry, Sabrina. I'm sorry. I'm very heartbroken to have lost Aino as well! Believe me, I don't love Aino any less than you. I love her very much. I treated her as my own child," said Holden, who was incomparably heartbroken. ① knock yourself to death! Why aren't you dead from drowning? You d*mned pervert! D*mned pervert! D*mned pervert! You're a maggot! Ten thousand, no, a million of you combined would not even compare to my husband! Maggot! Go to hell! I feel disgusted just looking at you! You're a d*mned maggot!"

"Go to hell! Why didn't you just knock yourself to death! Why aren't you dead from drowning?"

Sabrina had cursed him with all the most disgusting terms, so much so that Holden looked at her with a miserable gaze. “

Sabrina, am I that unbearable in your eyes? At the very least, I am a man who had saved you twice. In your eyes, I am just a maggot?”

“Go to hell! Go to hell! Kill me! Just kill me now!” Sabrina ran straight towards the railing crazily with her pregnant belly.

straight toward the railing
crazily with her pregnant belly.

She truly was too ashamed to live. She had made a promise to Sebastian that she would bring Aino back. However, where was Aino? Aino was gone. Aino was Sabrina everything. With Aino's life or death being unknown, Sabrina could not live on anymore. "Let me die..."

Holden hugged Sabrina. "Sabrina! What if Aino did not die? Call home. Perhaps Aino had already gone home?"

Sabrina sneered. "B*llshit! You maggot! Aino is only six years old!" Sabrina said that, but she still gave Sebastian a call. She said while crying inconsolably, "Sebastian, I have failed. Aino, she ..."

Sabrina: What if Aino did not die? Call home. Perhaps Aino had already gone home?"

Sabrina sneered. "B*llshit! You maggot! Aino is only six years old!" Sabrina said that, but she still gave Sebastian a call. She said while crying inconsolably, "Sebastian, I have failed. Aino, she ..."

"Our daughter is back, Sabrina." Sebastian sobbed miserably.

Chapter 1822

Sabrina instantly stopped sobbing. "What did you...say, Sebastian? What did you say?" She did not dare to believe her ears. She felt that how could fate make such a joke on her?

"Our daughter, she came back on her own," said Sebastian miserably.

Sabrina was speechless. She paused for a very long moment. She could hear Sebastian sobbing on the other end of the call.

"Sebastian..." After a very long time, Sabrina said in a very weak and vague tone, "Since Aino had already gone home, I feel at ease, Sebastian. You have to take good care of Aino. After that... find yourself another kind ease, Sebastian you have to take good care of Aino. After that... find yourself another kind hearted woman..."

"Stop it! Don't say that! Sabrina, I'll wait for you to come back! You will be back very soon! You're not allowed to say that!" Sebastian suddenly flew into a rage.

Holden heard Sebastian's voice through the call, so he already heard that Aino had returned to Sebastian's side. To Holden, that was just like a stab to his wound with a knife. It turned out that all the familial affection that Aino had shown him was a lie. It turned out that Aino still exhausted all her ideas to get back to her parents' side. D*mned! At that moment, Holden wanted to kill everyone in his mned! At that moment, Holden wanted to kill everyone in his surroundings. However, when he saw Sabrina looking like that, he suddenly became softhearted.

He hugged Sabrina and begged her desperately. "Sabrina, don't die! For the sake of the child in your belly and for Aino, you can't kill yourself. Think about it, Aino had already returned to her father's side. How happy is that?" In order to console Sabrina, Holden had no choice but to endure the pain and tell her that.

Sabrina looked at Holden. "Holden, are you...are you willing to let me go back and reunite with my husband and my daughter?"

"No!" Holden snapped.

my husband and my daughter!

“No!” Holden snapped.

“Ha!” Sabrina sneered.

Holden told Sabrina eagerly, “He doesn’t love you! Sabrina, wake up, alright? You’re already eight months pregnant, but what did Sebastian do? Firstly, he did not take care of you. Secondly, he did not take care of Aino. If he had been a little more concerned with you and your daughter, then do you think I could take you and Aino away? Do you think I will have the chance?”

Sabrina was speechless. It seemed that what Holden said made some sense, right? Sabrina was so angry that she could only smile and look at Holden.

Seeing Sabrina smile, Holden

smile and look golden.

Seeing Sabrina smile, Holden immediately had hope and joy twinkling in his gaze. "Sabrina, listen to me. You've gone through too many sufferings in your life. A huge part of these sufferings was brought on to you by Sebastian. Sabrina, wake up. Sebastian can't bring you any joy. He is a selfish man. He only had his great ambitions and business empire in his eyes and mind. Women and children were dispensable to him. You have to understand this! Sabrina! I, on the other hand, is different."

As he said that, Holden drew the curtains to the cabin and pointed to the largest and brightest room in the cabin for Sabrina to see. "Do you know what's in there?"

in the cabin to see. Do you know what's in there?"

Sabrina shook her head indifferently. "How do I know what's in your cabin?"

"It's a doctor and all the equipment! I even had blood bags with the same blood type as you prepared. Because I was afraid that you'll be giving birth on the ship, so I have got you the doctor, the equipment, the best midwife, and everything.

"Sabrina, although the child that you're carrying is not mine, I will still greatly treasure your life, including the child in your belly. Sabrina, could all this that I have done for you still be not enough to make you feel touched? I have never been a man who prioritizes great will still greatly treasure your life, including the child in your belly. Sabrina, could all this that I have done for you still be not enough to make you feel touched? I have never been a man who prioritizes great ambitions and businesses. I just want to live a simple life. I just want to live a simple life with the person I love. That's all!"

Sabrina was speechless. He said that with such sincerity.

Chapter 1823

Holden was so sincere and humble. Sabrina's temper was suddenly gone. She became dispirited, and then she smiled. "Forget it, Holden. I don't blame you anymore, but please don't stop me. Anyway, my daughter has already returned to my husband's side, and although I have a child in my belly, my husband still hasn't seen the child. Since he hasn't seen the child, then, of course, he would not be looking forward to it that much.

"Besides, Sebastian still has Aino by his side. The father and daughter duo can rely on each other and take care of each other. They will not be lonely, and I am also at ease. Therefore, other. They would not be lonely, and I am also at ease. Therefore, Holden, please don't stop me. I truly don't want to stay in this world anymore. I am done with living already.”

She said that so calmly and firmly. She truly did not wish to live in this world anymore. That was because if Holden could be so audacious in entering and leaving South City without letting Sebastian know, then that clearly meant that Holden certainly had a person behind him as his accomplice. For example, Sean and Rose, or Axel from Kidon City. Perhaps Holden had also joined forces with some residual forces aboard.

Otherwise, Holden would not enter South City so quietly. If it was truly like what Sabrina had enter south of the city quietly. If it was truly like what Sabrina had thought, then she certainly could not face that kind of dangerous situation. That was because Sabrina felt that since she had already come into the clutches of Holden, it truly would be very difficult for her to return to Sebastian's side. With Sebastian temper, he certainly would rescue Sabrina given if he had to go bankrupt. However, what would happen after he had gone bankrupt? How would Sebastian and Aino live then? On the other hand, what if something bad were to happen to Sebastian, then what would happen to Aino? Would she become an orphan?

"I don't want that!" Sabrina knitted her eyebrows in pain. She absolutely could not let Aino knitted her eyes closed in pain. She absolutely could not let Aino become an orphan. Aino was only six years old. The first five years of her life was spent wandering around and destitute, and then she finally had gotten a father for more than a year. No matter what happened, even if Sabrina had to sacrifice herself and the child in her belly that was about to be born, she had to protect Aino's life from then on. Therefore, Sabrina had to die!

“Holden Payne, let me die. This is the best way to resolve the love and hate between you, me, and your older brother! If you were to snatch me away, your brother certainly will not be finished with you in this life. With Sebastian’s temperament, he will not spare you. When the Sebastian's temperament, he will not spare you. When the time comes, if both of you fight to the death over me, then I also can't face my late mother-in-law after I die. Therefore, Holden, let me die."

"No, Sabrina, I love you! I love you!" said Holden desperately.

"But I don't love you! You're a crazy person! Pervert! Psycho! I don't love you! Listen to me, I don't love you! I don't love you! Who do you think you are?"

Holden Payne, I realized that you're truly incredibly perverted! You love someone else's wife and daughter! Even when I'm already pregnant, you also want to love the child in my belly! You do have an innate addiction to being made a cuckold? If you truly liked being addiction to be made a cuckold? If you truly liked being made a cuckold and liked to be the father of someone else's child, then just get yourself a wife and let your wife sleep with someone else. Let her come back after she was pregnant with that person's child. Wouldn't that work? Why must you insist on having me? You truly disgust me!"

Sabrina exhausted all the ways to provoke Holden just for the sake of making him release her as soon as possible. After that, she would jump into the sea!

However, Holden smiled miserably instead. "Sabrina, don't be like this. Don't act like this. I'll just send you back, alright? I will turn the ship around now and send you back.

miserably instead. “Sabrina, don’t be like this. Don’t act like this. I’ll just send you back, alright? I will turn the ship around now and send you back. I’d rather die myself than let any mishap happen to you and Aino. I love you. I love you and Aino, and I love the child in your belly. I sincerely love all of you.”

After saying that, Holden suddenly shouted, “Turn the ship around. Send Sabrina back.”

Sabrina was speechless.

“It’s already too late!” Suddenly, a voice that sounded like thunder came from the the sea.

Chapter 1824

Sabrina was shocked by that sound and she covered her ears. Holden saw Sabrina cowered, so he hurried to cover her ears. Sabrina pushed Holden aside with all her might. "Get lost!"

At that moment, the only fondness she had for Holden had already completely run out. She hated Holden's relentless pestering! He made her, who was eight months pregnant, separated from her husband and child for nothing. If she had a knife, she could have stabbed Holden to death. However, not only was Holden holding her captive at that moment, but it seemed that something else had happened. Sabrina raised her

Chapter 1824

Sabrina was shocked by that sound and she covered her ears. Holden saw Sabrina cowered, so he hurried to cover her ears. Sabrina pushed Holden aside with all her might. "Get lost!"

At that moment, the only fondness she had for Holden had already completely run out. She hated Holden's relentless pestering! He made her, who was eight months pregnant, separated from her husband and child for nothing. If she had a knife, she could have stabbed Holden to death. However, not only was Holden holding her captive at that moment, but it seemed that something else had happened. Sabrina raised her seemed that something else had happened. Sabrina raised her head and looked towards the sea. Only then did she realize that there was another ship at sea, and that ship was larger than the ship that she was on. On top of that tall deck, a person was shouting at Holden and Sabrina while holding a loudspeaker. That ship and that person seemed like those pirates from movies and shows. The person's voice was exuding a tough and brawny feeling.

“What’s going on?” Sabrina asked Holden in an exasperated tone.

Holden looked into the distance and he had a vicious gaze in his eyes. “F*ck! That d*mned Malvolio Yeatman! He actually did not keep his word! I had Malvolio Yeatman! He actually did not keep his word! I had already given him the entire island, and he actually did not keep his word! D*mn it!”

“Who is Malvolio Yeatman?” asked Sabrina.

At that point, Holden did not conceal the truth from Sabrina anymore. “More than a decade ago, Malvolio was a very famous young nobleman in Kidon City. Later on, the Yeatman family had fallen and became extremely poor in an instant. At that time, Holden was only eighteen. He was not willing to accept charity and gifts from others, so he gathered a gang to rob houses.”

“Surely, he is a robber!” Sabrina sneered.

Holden had a glum expression. “

“Surely, he is a robber!” Sabrina sneered.

Holden had a glum expression. “Later on, he actually got a little famous for robbing houses. As a result, many powerful and noble people in Kidon City had to give him protection money. He was getting more and more powerful like a raging fire, but Alex and Sebastian had jointly put out that fire of his.”

“Sebastian?” Sabrina sneered. “Holden, what nonsense are you spewing? It has nothing to do with Sebastian, so could you not frame him? More than a decade ago, your older brother, Sebastian, also was in hot waters! Your mother as well. At that time, both he and your mother were suffering from the

that time, both and your mother were suffering from the pain and hardships of living in exile abroad! At that time, Sebastian was not even acknowledged by the Ford Group, so how would he have the ability to subdue a robber?"

When he heard Sabrina say that, Holden sneered. He looked at Sabrina disdainfully. "You truly don't know your husband!"

Sabrina was speechless.

"Listen up, Sabrina." Holden suddenly teared up. "It's true that Sebastian was living in exile abroad! However, he had always had his mother accompanying him from the very beginning to the end! Not only that, but his father, Sean Ford, also gave him a hefty amount of living father, Sean Ford, also gave him a hefty amount of living expenses every month! His mother was a very top-level Architecture Designer abroad. Her monthly salary was enough to make them a middle-class household! In those days, when your husband was living in exile abroad, not only did he have a car to drive, but he also had a maid to take care of him! He even had extra money to build his resources! He already had his own club when he was eighteen. Do you know what kind of club that was?"

Sabrina looked at Holden in shock. Holden smiled miserably. "Do you know about non-firearm weapons?"

Sabrina was speechless. Of Sabrina was spe... course, she knew what non-firearm weapons are. It was those ancient weapons used in war such as knives, swords, spears, and so on.

“What are you telling me all this for?” Sabrina had already lost hope for life, so at that moment when the sound of shouting continuously came from that big ship, Sabrina just turned a deaf ear towards it.

Chapter 1825

“I’m telling you this to tell you that your husband, who had lived a hard life in exile, actually already had a club for what was the opposite of non-firearm weapons when he was eighteen. That was a firearms and explosives club. That was his private club! Since you know about non-firearm weapons, then you should also know about firearms and explosives, right?” Holden’s tone had a kind of incomparable sorrow.

At that moment, that large ship with the loud noise was getting closer and closer, but both Holden and Sabrina did not see in the slightest bit. It did closer and closer, but both Holden and Sabrina did not care in the slightest bit. It did not matter if the ship came over because Sabrina may jump into the sea in the next second anyway. As for the firearms and explosives that Holden had mentioned, Sabrina and Sebastian had been a married couple for almost two years and she had also been by Sebastian's side for a while seven years ago, so it was only natural that she knew what firearms and explosives were.

Sabrina did not say anything. She just looked at Holden. At that moment, she suddenly felt pity for Holden again. The expression on his face was incomparably sorrowful, warning, envious, and also expression on his face was incomparably sorrowful, yearning, envious, and also jealous.

“When I was also eighteen, I got into college, but my parents were unwilling to let me attend. They even cursed me with all the foul words. When I was also eighteen, my father had been thinking of making me a castrated man at all times and not letting me have my own child in the future. That was because he said that I am a devil spawn and a b*stard. My mother pinched me all day long until I was always covered in bruises. If I had just gone slightly against her wishes, my mother would have me kneel on glass shards. However, what about when your husband was n glass shards. However, what about when your husband was eighteen? He had his mother accompanying him by his side. He had a hefty sum of living expenses from his father. He studied at the best college, and he had enough money to build his resources. When he was eighteen, although he was an illegitimate child of the Ford family who was living in exile, he already silently made something of himself. At the same time, he also managed to befriend Alex and those other blood brothers of his! Since then, he had formed his circle of friends.”

He continued. “It was because he was powerful enough at that time, so Malvolio, who had been backed into a dead end

... was powerful enough at that time, so Malvolio, who had been backed into a dead end after being ruthlessly driven away by Alex, had no choice but to flee abroad. Malvolio originally thought that he could start a business abroad with the savings he got from years of robbery, but he never expected that Alex actually followed him aboard and wanted to severely punish him. However, Malvolio was not an easy person to mess with either. Malvolio, who got desperate after being relentlessly chased after by Alex, simply took a shot and fight Alex to the death, and he truly almost beat Alex to death. At that crucial moment when Malvolio originally thought that he could ruin himself

At that crucial moment when Malvolio originally thought that he could win, he met Sebastian instead. At that time, Sebastian still didn't know Alex yet, but he chose to save Alex's life. He helped Alex to deal with Malvolio and almost killed him. Later on, Malvolio only managed to escape after he pretended to be dead. After that, he got on a broken and old cargo ship and fled to Falaos. He then started to live his life being on the run. However, nobody expected that Malvolio actually made a fortune for himself in Falaos."

As he said that, the large ship had also already reached close to Holden's ship. Holden, Sabrina, and also some attendants on the ship could o Holden's ship, Holden, Sabrina, and also some attendants on the ship could feel people stepping onto their ship continuously. Sabrina did not even raise her head to take a look. She just sneered at him. "Holden, no matter what you said, that person named Malvolio is still a robber who had done all kinds of evil! Even if you don't tell me, I also know how he made a fortune in Falaos! I really don't understand why you are telling me so much about his past. Are you trying to help him whitewash his actions? He is here to finish you, and you're still whitewashing his actions? Holden, you truly are a strange one!"

After saying that, Sabrina

After saying that, Sabrina suddenly got up. She did not care that she had a huge pregnant belly. She just recklessly ran towards the bow of the ship. Since she had already become someone else's prisoner, then she could suffer lesser humiliation if she died earlier. That was because Sabrina could tell from what she heard that this person named Malvolio was her husband's arch enemy.

Right at that moment, her phone rang. In fact, her phone did not ring, it was just that her call to Sebastian had still been connected all this while. The call had never ended. At that moment, a sharp voice of a child suddenly came from her she heard that this person named Malvolio was her husband's arch enemy.

Right at that moment, her phone rang. In fact, her phone did not ring, it was just that her call to Sebastian had still been connected all this while. The call had never ended. At that moment, a sharp voice of a child suddenly came from her phone. "Mom! I am Aino. Mom, don't die." Aino was sobbing.

Chapter 1826

Sabrina was stunned. She did not expect that Aino's voice would come from the other end of the call. She did not expect at all that she and Sebastian's call was still connected. When she heard Aino's voice, Sabrina instantly stopped in her tracks.

"Mom! Mom!" Aino shouted incredibly anxiously at the other end of the call. "Mom, don't die! If you die, then I will not have a mother anymore! Also, my grandma will be very pitiful. My uncle as well. Mom... you have to stay strong. You have to stay alive! Mom, I am begging you, please. You have to stay alive. Don't die! Dad will rescue you immediately." Aino rescue you immediately." Aino cried inconsolably.

Sabrina's heart was torn into pieces and it felt like she was bleeding out in her heart. She clenched her teeth tightly and her eyebrows were also tightly knitted. Sabrina forced herself to hold back her tears and spoke into the phone. "Baby, I promise you that I will die, but you have to take good care of your dad at home. You have to listen to your dad. Do you understand, baby?"

Aino nodded. "I understand, Mom. You have to be brave, Mom. I am very brave. I was not afraid of Uncle Holden at all. I thought of a solution very calmly and I finally escaped from Uncle Holden's end.

calmly and I finally escaped from Uncle Holden's end.

Mom, you can do it too." How could the six-year-old child know how great of a danger her mother was in at that moment?

Sabrina had already heard from Holden that the man who came to hijack the ship was her husband's arch enemy. He was an arch-enemy who had laid dormant for the past couple of decades. Sabrina had to tell her husband as soon as she could. She gently coaxed Aino. "Aino, don't cry. You also have to be strong. Do you understand, baby? Look, even you can find a way back, so I certainly can do it as well. I'm still waiting for you to help me take care of the baby in my belly. Alright, Aino?"

you to help me take care of the baby in my belly. Alright, Aino?”

Aino nodded again. “Mm-hmm. Alright, mom. I certainly can do my best.”

“Aino, put your dad on the phone,” said Sabrina.

The person on the other end of the phone has already changed to Sebastian. “Sabrina, what happened on your end?”

Although it was disjointed, I also heard that it seemed to be a person named Malvolio? Was it that fugitive from more than a decade ago named Malvolio Yeatman?”

Sabrina nodded. In a hoarse voice, she said, “Sebastian, that man named Malvolio Sabrina nodded. In a hoarse voice, she said, "Sebastian, that man named Malvolio certainly had come prepared. He is here for you. You have to be careful, Sebastian. This person had been lurking around Holden's end here recently. That's why I have not noticed him at all. Sebastian, you certainly have to be careful. Sebastian, I won't die. I will definitely hold out until the end ..."

Before she could finish her words, she was already surrounded by men in uniforms who had swamped over from the other ship. Those men were all wearing combat suits and were all carrying heavy arms in their hands.

suits and were all carrying heavy arms in their hands. Sabrina instantly hung up the call and hid her phone.

At that moment, a big and tall man came through from the outer circle of the crowd. The man named Malvolio Yeatman suited his name very well. Not only did he have tall stature and a slender figure, but his facial features were also very handsome. He looked nothing like the robber and fugitive he once was.

Sabrina looked calmly at that man. The man did not look at Sabrina, but he looked at Holden instead. "Holden Payne, you used to tell me about it and I never believed you. I never expected that I

Holden instead of Holden
Payne, you used to tell me about it and I never believed you. I never expected that I would be seeing it with my own eyes today that you truly are a devoted type of guy.”

“Malvolio Yeatman! You have no shame!” said Holden while he gritted his teeth.

“Haha!” Malvolio suddenly laughed hysterically. “Holden Payne! You can only blame yourself for being too naive! Do you know how long I have wanted this island of yours? Five years! For five whole years, I have been planning on how to get this island of yours because this island is the nearest to Sebastian’s South City. However, I had just gotten nearest to Sebastian's South City. However, I had just gotten a plan, but you beat me to the punch before I could execute my plan! You truly are very generous with your spending! You used nine hundred million dollars in one fell swoop to trade for this island. You were already the King on that island! It would have been very difficult for me to attack it again. I could only outsmart you. I could only take an indirect path to get to my goal and think of a way to approach you first. However, I never expected that you were such a fool! I originally thought that I have to go to great lengths to gain your trust, and then slowly scheme for your island. Who knew that you didn't care and think of a way to approach you first. However, I never expected that you were such a fool! I originally thought that I have to go to great lengths to gain your trust, and then slowly scheme for your island. Who knew that you didn't care for your island at all? You actually willingly gave it to me just for the purpose of letting me find a way to send you back to South City? Hahaha! You're truly a fool."