

Wonder Doctor Chapters 33-34 –

Chapter 33

It was late at night, and before parting with Liu Chen Zhang Xu, Lin Ran pulled Song Nuan to one side.

“What is it that you can’t say to your face, you have to sneak around.”

Song Nuan was still a little angry and didn’t have a good face.

Lin Ran also didn’t care and said.

“I’ll go to your house the day after tomorrow.”

“Go to my house? What do you want?”

Song Nuan’s face was wary.

“Because of you, of course.”

Lin Ran said, he didn’t say it outright for fear that this nee-san would worry blindly.

“For me? Hey, what I said just now was all angry, don’t take it seriously, I’m innocent with you.”

Song Nuan said hurriedly, obviously thinking that Lin Ran was going to his house because of what she had said today in public about being his girlfriend.

“What are you thinking, I went to your house because of a security issue of yours.”

Lin Ran was speechless.

“A security issue? What security issue can I have.”

Song Nuan didn't understand, and Lin Ran stopped explaining, waving his hand and saying.

“You should go back first, we'll talk about the specific matter the night after tomorrow.”

“And! I'd like to see what you want to do the day after tomorrow.”

Song Nuan dropped a blank stare, swirled into the car and left.

The next morning, Lin Ran got up early, with a good job, he naturally had to work hard, not only to make some achievements, but also to carry forward the way of Chinese medicine.

When he arrived at the hospital early, Lin Ran was really surprised.

The Chinese medicine department, which was usually cold and quiet, was actually full of people today, and at first glance, there were all kinds of men, women and children.

“Director Lin, you are here, the director has arranged for many patients to be transferred early in the morning, all waiting for you to see them.”

Liu Wenjuan came running beautifully in her nurse's uniform, her face full of sorrow.

“Is it still bad to have patients coming in? Why the sad face.”

Lin Ran laughed.

“There are too many coming, I’m afraid they’ll all be lined up until three days later.”

Liu Wenjuan said, usually the Chinese medicine department didn’t see a single patient a day, but this time, good guys, forty to fifty people came at once.

Small illnesses and disasters are fine, if they come across difficult and complicated cases, it is likely that they will not be able to solve two or three a day.

“Don’t worry, tell them to go straight to the nurses’ station, I’ll be right over.”

Lin Ran laughed.

Liu Wenjuan didn’t understand, but didn’t dare to ask more questions and immediately went to make arrangements.

Lin Ran quickly changed into a white coat and went straight to the nurses’ station.

“Hey, when is the doctor coming anyway!”

“That’s right, we’ve been waiting for half a day, saying something about a little miracle doctor in the Chinese medicine department, where is he?”

“I think ah, we should not wait, did not see the picture on the door, early twenties can have what medical skills, which Chinese medicine doctor is not older than us.”

“Yes, otherwise we’d better go to the Western medicine department.”

A group of people were talking, and as they spoke, Lin Ran had already arrived.

“You all seem to have a lot of opinions about my Chinese medicine department, and even myself.”

Lin Ran laughed, he wasn’t surprised by this situation, his own skills were known to Dean Yang, but not to these patients.

“Look, I’m not wrong, I’m afraid he’s only just graduated at such a young age, how can he possibly be able to heal and save people!”

One old man said, and the others echoed his words.

“Yes, he’s as young as my grandson, how could he possibly be able to save people?”

“Forget it, let’s go, let’s not waste time here!”

The group of people said and were about to leave, Lin Ran laughed helplessly at this, it seemed that it was impossible not to show his hand.

“Grandpa, you should often have insomnia at night recently, right, and sleep night sweats, dreamy, I have said it wrong.”

“You .... How do you know!”

The oldest man who spoke first was stunned at the words, somewhat in disbelief.

“Grandpa you have a yellowish complexion, weak eyes, and you always feel breathless lately, right!”

“Yes, yes, what’s wrong with me?”

The old man hurriedly asked.

“Weakness of breath must belong to the kidneys, and it is inevitable that you will lose your strength as you get older. I see that you are in good spirits and are not seriously ill.”

“When you go back, you only need dates, honey, walnuts and regular consumption with cinnamon and lotus seed soup, and you will heal yourself.”

Lin Ran laughed.

The old man was a little puzzled and hurriedly asked.

“Don’t you need to prescribe medicine?”

“It’s medicine that is poisonous in three parts, Chinese medicine focuses on both regulation and treatment, and will not usually recommend you to use medicine if you can do without it.”

Lin Ran laughed.

“Thank you little divine doctor, there aren’t many doctors like you who help patients think like this nowadays!”

The old man was very happy, although his family was well off, but it was inevitable that people were frugal as they got older, and it was the first time he had come across a doctor who could see a good doctor without spending money.

“Little divine doctor, and me, I’m not feeling well either!”

“Little divine doctor, me me, and me!”

At this moment, the people around them all flocked over, one after another, shouting loudly, they could see it really well.

Just now, Lin Ran had not even taken his pulse, he had just taken a look and told them the condition and the treatment.

Nowadays, many families have one person who is sick and the whole family is unemployed, and they can even be penniless, and the price of medicine can easily be hundreds of thousands of dollars or millions, so how can they afford it?

This kind of approach by Lin Ran was exactly what they needed.

“Auntie, you have a deficiency of qi and blood and suffer from severe iron deficiency anaemia, you are advised to first use raw astragalus, deer horn gum, turtle plate gum, aconite, angelica, rehmannia, prepared shou wu, zihe che, wolfberry, and other important blood tonics, and later on regulate them through dietary therapy.”

“Uncle, you are afraid of cold, you can use the evidence of Gui Zhi Tang to regulate, Gui Zhi, Bai Shao 10g each, three slices of ginger, 10 jujubes, 6g licorice, boil water and drink, three doses of medicine initially see the effect.”

“.....”

One by one, the patient sat down, and Lin Ran only took a glance at the patient before naming the disease and the corresponding remedy, and everyone was stunned for a while.

Even the few nurses watching from one side were all dumbfounded.

They all thought that Lin Ran had come in through connections, but at this moment, when they saw that Lin Ran had treated the illnesses quickly, very quickly and accurately, they could not help but feel their faces burning hot.

Many of them had studied Chinese medicine because they loved this essence of the country, but after working, things had gone against them, and many of them had even resigned themselves to their fate, until they met Lin Ran and their love for Chinese medicine was rekindled.

The reason why Chinese medicine had fallen into decline was because the prescriptions were so precious and secret that they were not passed on to the public, resulting in fewer and fewer people knowing them, but Lin Ran didn't hide each and every prescription and told them directly, giving them the opportunity to learn, so they wouldn't slow down in their work.

The whole TCM department was busy at the same time.

Soon, a young man made his way across to Lin Ran and looked at him excitedly and said.

“Little divine Doctor, my mouth has been dry recently, my body is weak, and I often have hallucinations and tinnitus, what is this illness?”

Lin Ran looked up at the other party, and after a moment, he cried and laughed a little and said.

“Young man, moderation is needed!”

All the people present had experienced love affairs, so how could they not understand the meaning of Lin Ran's words, they all laughed at once.

A few nurses even cried out in laughter, and could not help but feel even more favourable towards the director in front of them.

They were all very happy to be working under such a leader.

Chapter 34

“Next!”

Lin Ran shouted.

“Director Lin, there’s no one left!”

Liu Wenjuan returned with some tears and laughter.

Lin Ran looked up and couldn’t help but feel helpless, after sitting for two whole hours, he had actually finished seeing all the patients, knowing that this was the usual Chinese medicine department’s yearly flow of people, even if it were other departments it would take a month or two, but he had seen them all in one morning.

“Aren’t there any more patients coming in the back?”

Lin Ran looked at his watch, it was only eleven in the morning, still an hour before the end of the day.

“No, we just went to ask, the other departments aren’t letting anyone in, they’ll be eating dirt this month if they do.”

Liu Wenjuan said with her tongue out.

Lin Ran was helpless and looked at the crowd and said.

“Fine, then you all go and rest for a while, in the meantime study those recipes I mentioned this morning, you can all use them in the future.”

“Yes Director Lin!”

One by one, the little nurses were excited, all morning while Lin Ran was looking at the patients, he was also instructing them, the use of the prescriptions and the dose ratios, they could all benefit a lot.

“I can’t just sit there, I have to go and spy on the other departments.”

With this in mind, Lin Ran exited the Chinese medicine department and ran towards the most crowded emergency department.

Inside the emergency department, at this time Qin Bing was seriously examining a patient in front of him.

The actual fact is that Qin Bing is not a doctor in the emergency department, but was transferred here today for a better vacation.

At this time, the emergency department is overcrowded, looking at an hour before the end of the day, but there are still many patients here.

“Hey! Looks like we’ll have to work overtime again at noon!”

Qin Bing smiled helplessly, she didn’t like to keep patients waiting for herself, and working overtime at noon was a common occurrence.

“Director Qin, busy.”

Lin Ran smiled as he walked in, Qin Bing had just finished writing up the results of her treatment, seeing this she handed them to the patient and got up to laugh.

“Director Lin is still really impressive, I heard that in one morning’s time he visited a month’s worth of people in our department, it’s really admirable.”

Qin Bing laughed.

“Joking aside.”

Lin Ran laughed awkwardly, in fact everyone knew the situation of the TCM department, it was good to have people, this morning Lin Ran was a great power, but now all the other departments were not transferring patients to the TCM department, this was going to eat dirt again.

“Do you want to sit here with me for a while, there’s still half an hour before the end of the day.”

Qin Bing smiled.

Lin Ran nodded at his words, Qin Bing was clearly trying to help him open up his popularity, he naturally wouldn’t refuse.

The table was quickly set up, several small nurses looked at Lin Ran, all very curious, recently the name Lin Ran of Temperance Hospital was a big deal.

“Have you heard, it’s this Director Lin who has seen a month’s worth of our department’s workload in one morning.”

“Oh yeah, really!”

The little nurses were chattering and talking.

Lin Ran, however, didn't care, at this moment, under Qin Bing's arrangement, people had already started to be sent over.

“Director Lin? Is it reliable? This is about the same age as my child.”

The first patient, a middle-aged woman, was slightly chubby and had a lot of expectorating spots on her face.

“Auntie, reliable or not, you might as well tell me about the condition, I'll analyse it for you and you can judge it in.”

Lin Ran laughed, that aunt saw that Lin Ran was quite polite, so she told her condition.

“Recently, I've been feeling pain in my neck. I went to the orthopaedic department and they said it was fine, so I went home, but today the pain was suddenly so bad that I came straight to the emergency room.”

“I'll take a look.”

Lin Ran said as he got up and came behind his aunt to check.

This aunty's neck, which was slightly backward, and which seemed like it couldn't be stretched out straight, gave a very strange feeling.

“How is the young man?”

A moment later, Lin Ran let go of his hand and the aunt asked hurriedly.

“Nothing serious, just a bulging cervical vertebrae, which should have something to do with your work.”

“Yes, I’m an old retired accountant, I used to bang away at the computer every day, my neck is getting more and more uncomfortable after I retired.”

Auntie said, Lin Ran smiled and said.

“It’s normal, being young is a disease that doesn’t even flare up, once you get older all sorts of hidden illnesses will come to the fore.”

“Little miracle doctor, how do I treat this illness?”

Auntie asked, Lin Ran smiled at his words and said.

“This is the initial stage, you don’t need to treat it for now, go back and exercise your neck more, it will slowly heal.”

“What? No need for treatment? No need for injections and medication either?”

Auntie was a little unconvinced, Lin Ran nodded while taking out a silver needle and quickly stabbed it on Auntie’s neck and laughed.

“It won’t hurt anymore for three to five days, but you have to remember to exercise more or it will still hurt then.”

“It really doesn’t hurt anymore, it’s divine!”

The aunt said in surprise, getting up and thanking and praising Lin Ran, and in the end, Qin Bing had no choice but to step in and send the aunt away.

The other patients at the back had doubts in their minds, but when they saw that Lin Ran had sent a patient away so quickly, and that the other party hadn’t spent a penny, they couldn’t help but flock over.

“Everyone line up one by one!”

Qin Bing greeted.

Lin Ran came one by one, either taking pulses or checking the condition, and in just half an hour he had cleared the emergency department of all patients.

Looking at how empty even the emergency department could be, Qin Bing couldn't help but feel saddened.

“I want to go to your Chinese medicine department, not for anything else, at least I can get off work on time!”

“Director Qin is joking!”

Lin Ran looked at his watch, it was already twelve o'clock and he was ready to go back from work.

At that moment, a middle-aged man suddenly came running in with an old man, his face was pale, his lips were purple, and he was obviously in a coma.

“Doctor, save my father!”

The middle-aged man's eyes were red with anxiety.

A moment ago, their father and son had come to still eat at the restaurant outside the hospital, but his old man had fainted when he said he would, and when he saw that the hospital was across the street, he ran over with his old man in his arms, but in two minutes' time, his old man's lips had turned purple.

“Send the ward quickly, the patient is in acute shock!”

Qin Bing said, several small nurses who were all ready to leave work, saw this and one by one they got busy again.

Lin Ran followed him over, he always felt that the situation of the patient in front of him did not seem to be simple.

.....

The first thing you need to do is to get a good idea of what you're doing.

Lin Ran stood by and silently observed the patient. He did not find anything wrong with the patient, but the fact that the patient was unconscious meant that something was definitely wrong with him.

A few moments later, Qin Bing walked in with the patient's various test results and Lin Ran went up to him and asked.

"How is it?"

Qin Bing's face was ugly as he whispered.

"All the tests that should be done have been done, and no cause of the disease has been found."

"No cause of the disease was detected?"

Lin Ran couldn't help but frown, looking at the numbers on the various instruments, Lin Ran could roughly tell that the patient's breathing was very weak, but it was a little strange that the cause of the disease couldn't be found.

"What about it, have you checked it out, did you find anything?"

Qin Bing asked, unable to find out the cause of the illness for a while, she could only hope on Lin Ran, after all, this guy did not follow the usual rules, he might be able to tell something.

“I haven’t checked carefully yet, I’ll go and take a look first!”

Lin Ran said and walked over towards the patient.

The patient was in his sixties, with a dark face, and was obviously a man who did strength work.

Lin Ran placed his hand on the other person’s forehead, and then a stream of true qi travelled throughout his body, soon when it reached the other person’s lungs, Lin Ran’s face was shocked and he immediately retracted his palm.

“How is it?”

Qin Bing asked as he came over.

Lin Ran shook his head and said.
