

The atmosphere in the Mercedes Benz was incredibly heavy.

Whether it was Bai Yi, who was riding shotgun, or the Bai Shan couple, who were seated in the backseat, they had all yet to get out from the shock of what happened just now.

Lin Fan was terribly ruthless and fierce when fighting against twenty men by himself.

The notorious Master Dao was extremely respectful towards Lin Fan.

After witnessing what they had seen, they suddenly felt as if this son-in-law was covered in a veil of mysteriousness.

He had become so incredibly foreign and mysterious.

After a good long while, Bai Yi finally could no longer contain her curiosity and opened her mouth to ask, "Lin Fan, don't you think you ought to give us some explanation?"

An explanation!

Lin Fan froze momentarily at her words and glanced at the expression of the Bai Shan couple seated behind before breaking into a smile as he said, "Dad, Mom, don't look at me like that! I did learn martial arts in the past, but I've already forgotten it all."

Huh?

Forgotten?

The Bai Shan couple couldn't help but be at a loss for words for his response.

For someone who bare handedly broke an arm and a leg of twenty or so baseball bat wielding burly men, you still have the gall to say that you've forgotten your skills?

Then if you hadn't forgotten, would slaughtering these twenty men be as easy as butchering livestock?

The corner of Bai Shan's mouth twitched a little and he looked like he wanted to say something but ultimately didn't say anything.

Only Bai Yi continued pressing him, "Putting aside the fact that you know martial arts, let's talk about how you know Master Dao."

When they heard the words Master Dao, the ears of the Bai Shan couple seated in the back perked up.

That was the overlord of the northern part of Jiang city.

They couldn't even begin to imagine how Lin Fan would know someone like that.

"Honey, wasn't I sent to prison a few days ago?" Lin Fan answered calmly with a smile, "I happened to be in the same cell as that baldy! At that time, he wanted to teach me a lesson so I reasoned with him and earnestly convinced him to change for the better!"

What!

Hearing Lin Fan's words, the corners of Bai Yi and her parent's mouths all twitched once again.

Help him change for the better?

They simply could not imagine how a ruthless man like Master Dao, who licked people with his blade, could be changed with words.

"Lin Fan, are you taking me for an idiot?" Bai Yi snapped at him as her pretty face flushed red in anger and she glared daggers at him, "Speak, did you beat Master Dao up before? Otherwise, why would he be so polite to you?"

Other than Bai Yi, even the Bai Shan couple had similar thoughts.

Hearing her words, Lin Fan hurriedly shook his head and said in all seriousness, "Honey, I swear on my heart, I'm not a savage! I didn't lay a finger on that guy!"

He really wasn't lying.

After all, that Master Dao was scared to death without him raising so much as a finger. If he actually did anything to Master Dao, that fella would already be in a coffin.

Hmm?

Bai Yi's eyebrows furrowed slightly, she looked at Lin Fan's expression and didn't feel like he was lying.

However, she still found it hard to believe that against someone like Master Dao, he could change that person with just his words and not violence.

That was too unbelievable.

"Alright! Since we've cleared it all up, then it's fine!" A smile appeared on Bai Shan's face.

Despite the scare, Bai Shan was becoming increasingly satisfied with his son-in-law the more he looked at him.

And he wasn't the only one!

Beside him, the gaze Shen Yumei had on Lin Fan when she looked at him became much softer as well, as she said, "You brat, be more restrained from now on, you must have offended someone this time, that's why they want to ruin you!"

"If there's a next time, we won't be able to help you!"

Although Shen Yumei's words were harsh, it was hard to conceal the smile the corners of her lips curled into.

Soon, the family of four had returned home and when they turned on the TV, they were greeted with a piece of news that left all four of them stupefied.

"This station continues to report on the competition between Chinese and Western Medicine!"

"According to the latest information that had been sent in, Mr. Gao Zhiyuan, an expert in Traditional Chinese Medicine, has once again challenged Mike, an expert in Western medicine, to a contest! It is said that there will be another contestant of Traditional Chinese Medicine by the name of Dr. Lin participating in this contest!"

"This Dr. Lin has a mysterious identity and unknown origins, but is held in high regard by the best Chinese doctor in our city, Dr. Gao Zhiyuan. He is known as Divine Doctor Lin!”

What!

After hearing the news, Bai Yi’s family was stunned.

They did not expect Gao Zhiyuan to actually issue another challenge after suffering a loss for Traditional Chinese Medicine.

As for this Dr. Lin, could it be that he was even more skilled than Elder Gao?

Otherwise, why would he join the competition?

“I don’t think we have any famous Chinese doctors in our Jiang City with the last name of Lin, do we?” Bai Shan frowned, no matter how hard he racked his brains, he could think of who that doctor with the surname of Lin was.

Bai Yi was just as confused. “What’s going on lately? First we have a bigwig named Mr. Lin! And now, a Divine Doctor Lin has popped up as well!”

The entire family was utterly confused.

They just couldn't figure out who on earth this Divine Doctor Lin was.

However, that was not all.

Soon, images of Gao Zhiyuan, the best practitioner of Chinese Medicine in Jiang City, appeared on the screen.

During the interview, gone was gloom from his loss, Gao Zhiyuan appeared spirited and full of life as he said to the reporter, "It's of a great fortune that we were able to invite Divine Doctor Lin this time, and we would like to express our gratitude and respect to him for being able to come and participate in the competition despite his busy schedule!

"Tomorrow morning, I believe Divine Doctor Lin will demonstrate incredible Chinese Medical techniques to make everyone understand that Traditional Chinese Medicine is definitely a miraculous healing technique that saves lives and heals injuries!"

What!

Bai Yi's family was completely dumbstruck by Gao Zhiyuan's words.

Even though it was through the TV screen, they could clearly feel the deep faith and respect Gao Zhiyuan had for that Divine Doctor Lin.

“My god, now I'm becoming more and more curious just who this Divine Doctor Lin is,” Bai Shan exclaimed in wonder.

While Bai Yi also found it incredulous as she said, “Yeah, Elder Gao is already the best In Traditional Chinese Medicine in Jiang city, someone he respects like so must be an elderly practitioner of Traditional Chinese Medicine!”

An elderly practitioner of Traditional Chinese Medicine?

Lin Fan felt the corner of his mouth twitch slightly.

He knew that even if he told them that he was that Divine Doctor Lin, they probably wouldn't believe him.

And just then, the image on the TV changed and they were now seeing the interview with the Western expert, Mike.

On TV , Mike was just as high and mighty as he said with scorn written all over his face, “Traditional Chinese Medicine? That's just a load of crap!

"That Lin person is nothing more than a good-for-nothing ballyhoo! In the competition tomorrow, I will be treating Mr. Bai and I'll get a patient with similar conditions for him!

"Just watch, tomorrow, I will make that Lin person get down on his knees and beg me for mercy as I crush him with my skills in Western Medicine! I will make him personally admit that Traditional Chinese Medicine is a fraud, a piece of garbage! Hahaha..."

Mike's laughter sounded extra hysterical.

And beside him was a bootlicker known as Bai Yifan speaking to the reporter, "Today, My grandfather almost lost his life! His heart had stopped for ten whole minutes and it was all thanks to Dr. Mike's Western Medicine that brought my grandfather back to life!

"So, I'm sure Dr. Mike will be able to save my grandfather tomorrow. As for that Mr. Lin? I'm sorry, but I've never heard of this man, he's probably some country bumpkin from god knows where."

Bai Yifan's words were all praise for Western Medicine while trampling all over Chinese Medicine.

Seeing this, the corner of Lin Fan's lips couldn't help but curl into a seeming smirk.

He really wanted to know the looks on their faces after the competition tomorrow.

Early next morning, Bai Yi's family had already woken up. Breakfast had been prepared by Shen Yumei and the whole family was watching TV while having their meal.

On the TV was a live broadcast of the Chinese and Western Medicine Competition.

On the screen, both Gao Zhiyuan and the Western doctor Mike had long been prepared.

On one side, the patient being treated with Western Medicine was Old Master Bai.

And on the other side, an elderly patient with a similar condition to Old Master Bai was sent in to be treated with Chinese Medicine.

In comparison, the symptoms of that elderly patient seemed to be more severe than that of Old Master Bai.

His entire face was densely covered in age spots and exuding with an air of death. His breathing was thin, like he could just pass on at any given moment.

Old Master Bai, on the other hand, had strong and steady breathing.

"Sigh! Bai Hai just gave us a call telling us not to go to the hospital,” Bai Shan sighed deeply at the dining table.

In the eyes of all the Bai family members, the reason why the Old Master got so ill he was hospitalized was entirely because of his anger for Bai Shan’s family.

They had become an eyesore to all of the the members of the Bai family.

This time, they were even denied a visit by the Bai family when Old Master Bai was due for surgery.

“Well, we just won’t go since they don’t let us!” Shen Yumei said simply, unconcerned by it, “Anyway, we can see the Old Master’s situation through the live telecast. And it’s not too late even if we go after the operation.”

Hearing her words, Bai Shan could only nod his head in resignation.

However, just then, Bai Yi’s brows were tightly knitted together as she watched the live broadcast and she expressed her confusion, “It’s odd. Everyone is ready to go but that Divine Doctor Lin is nowhere to be seen.”

Hmm?

Bai Shan and Shen Yumei were, however, reminded by this sentence.

The couple kept trying to search on the screen but they didn't find anyone in particular within the Chinese Medicine camp.

"There's only half an hour to go before the Chinese and Western Medicine Competition starts, is that Divine Doctor Lin backing out at the last minute?" Bai Shan remarked with a frowned.

He wasn't the only one who thought that way.

At this moment, even Bai Yi and Shen Yumei thought the same.

After all, that Divine Doctor Lin didn't turn up at the press interview yesterday either.

And how could they not question that when the competition was about to begin and everyone was ready while that Divine Doctor Lin was nowhere to be found.

And obviously that was an issue that both the Chinese and Western Medicine camps had noticed as well.

In an instant, there was a reporter who inquired that of Gao Zhiyuan, "Excuse me, Elder Gao, where is that Mr. Lin? It's now half an hour before the competition, why haven't the participants shown up yet?"

Hearing the questioning tone, Elder Gao appeared a little awkward and could only put on a bold face and reply, "Don't worry everyone, the competition will go on as scheduled, and Divine Doctor Lin, will definitely show up as well!"

However, the moment Elder Gao finished his last word, the Western doctor Mike, who was on his side, scoffed, "Tsk! I'm afraid it's probably because that Lin person dared not come and hid in his shell like a coward!"

What!

His remark caused the faces of everyone to change.

All the medical staff on the Traditional Chinese Medical team had all worsened to the extreme, while the faces of people like Bai Yifan, who supported Western Medicine, were covered in scorn.

"Hmph! We've already checked, and among the Chinese doctors in Jiang City, there wasn't a single one with Lin as their last name!" The contempt on the Western Doctor

Mike's face thickened as he continued, "The way I see it, you Chinese Medical frauds probably invited some physician from the underground, the Jianghu, but that person got cold feet and didn't even dare to show up!"

What!

The moment those words came out, all the Traditional Chinese Medical experts were virtually oozing with gloom.

However, there was more.

The Western doctor Mike went to say, "Don't worry everybody, even if that conman by the surname of Lin doesn't dare to show up, the competition today will proceed as per normal. I, the Western Medical expert, Mike, will uphold the medical ethics and will surely cure Old Master Bai!"

Clap clap clap!

Hearing this, Bai Yifan and the others all cheered and applauded him to sing praise of Mike's medical virtue.

And at the same time!

Seated in front of the Tv, Lin Fan slowly put down his bowl and chopsticks.

Then, he picked up a shopping basket and said to Bai Yi, "Honey, I'm going grocery shopping!"

Grocery shopping?

Bai Yi and her parents were all momentarily stunned.

"Lin Fan, aren't you going to watch the live broadcast of the Chinese and Western Medicine competition?" Bai Yi asked with a puzzled look on her face.

The live broadcast!

Lin Fan felt the corner of his mouth twitch a bit. If I don't go grocery shopping now, I'm afraid you guys will probably never see Divine Doctor Lin.

"Not watching!"

And with that, Lin Fan slowly left the house on an e-bike with the shopping basket.

...

Half an hour later, the Chinese and Western Medicine Competition had already begun. The Western doctor Mike led his team of medical staff into the operating room and officially began operating on Old Master

Bai..

Meanwhile, all the Chinese Medical doctors were anxiously running around in circles like ants on a hot pan.

“Elder Gao, why isn’t the Divine Doctor Lin you mentioned here yet? Could he have really fled at the last minute?” One of the Traditional Chinese Medical experts asked Elder Gao with a dark expression.

Other than him, the rest of them were all staring at Elder Gao as well.

After all, the competition this time was being broadcasted live.

If that Divine Doctor Lin actually ran away at the last minute, then Traditional Chinese Medicine will really become the joke of all of Jiang City.

And Chinese Medicine will be ruined, falling further out of favor.

At this moment, Gao Zhiyuan could only force a sad smile.

Amongst all these people, he was the only one who knew Lin Fan’s true identity and he was the only one with complete faith in Lin Fan.

However, he couldn't explain it to them and could only try his best to calm them down by saying, "Don't worry, Divine Doctor Lin will be here soon! I'm going to wait for him at the hospital entrance, so everyone please stay calm!"

Then, he hurriedly left for the hospital entrance at top speed and waited anxiously.

And just as he was about to burst into tears from anxiety after waiting for ten minutes, he saw an e-bike leisurely riding into the hospital.

"Mr. Lin!" Elder Gao was instantly thrilled to see Lin Fan on the bike as he rushed up to greet the latter and asked anxiously, "Mr. Lin, what took you so long? The competition had already started ten minutes ago. If you came any later, it will be far too late!"

Elder Gao wiped away his perspiration while asking in a hurry.

Lin Fan shrugged at Elder Gao's words. Then, he picked up a basket of groceries from the back seat of the e-bike and said, "I took a trip to the market just now to get some groceries, that's why I was late."

Huh?

Only when he heard those words did Elder Gao notice that Lin Fan's shopping basket was filled with a variety of vegetables.

Carrot, eggplant, celery...

This bloody...

At this moment, Elder Gao just wanted to run headlong into death.

Well, he supposed this good sir was happily shopping in the market while everyone was getting all antsy from waiting for him till their eyes were about to pop out of their sockets...

Elder Gao found it hard to believe that the hallowed Divine Physician of Bones, worshiped as a god by the global medical community, had actually become a house husband.

"There's still time, let's go!"

Lin Fan was completely unbothered by the strange look Elder Gao was giving him. Right then, with the basket of vegetables in hand, he walked straight into the hospital.

Without any more time to get lost in his thoughts, Elder Gao could only quickly follow suit.

Soon, the two of them arrived at the surgery preparation room.

As they neared the room, voices of dissatisfaction could be heard from inside.

"Who on earth is that Divine Doctor Lin acting like he's all that? Could he really be a conman?"

"I doubt so, Elder Gao is a master of Traditional Chinese Medicine, if that person's really a fraud, how could they get past him?"

"Well, I guess so! It's just too unfortunate that even if that Lin person does have some skills, I'm afraid fear probably got the better of him and he backed out like a coward! It's just a sad day for the rest of us Chinese Medical doctors!"

" ... "

Amidst the discussion between the Chinese Medical practitioners, every one of their words carried strong dissatisfaction for Divine Doctor Lin Fan.

Just then!

Creak!

The door to the preparation room had been

Chapter 54 This Must Be Divine Doctor Lin!

pushed open and they were greeted with the sight of Elder Gao walking in with a young man holding a basket of groceries. "Let me introduce to you all, this is Divine Doctor Lin!"
